

VERY COSTLY TRIP TO CANADA

Hormisdas Arvaisais of This City Relieved of $340 on Train of Great Northern Railroad

Mr. Hormisdas Arvaisais of 24 John street, has returned from a pleasant trip to Canada, but which was very expensive to him, for on his way home he was relieved of about $340, the theft having been committed on a train between St. Paulin and Montreal, Que. The Canadian police were notified of the loss, but as yet the culprit has not been apprehended.

Mr. Arvaisais left here on Jan. 1 for his annual trip to Canada. The trip was a very enjoyable one and while in St. Paulin the Lowellite had a splendid time. Before returning, however, he dropped into a tobacco store owned by Mr. Pierre Grandchamps, brother of Napoleon C. Grandchamps of this city, and purchased a quantity of his favorite weed. There was a traveling salesman in the store at the time but Mr. Arvaisais paid little attention to him.

Later Mr. Arvaisais directed his footsteps toward the railroad station and boarded a train for Montreal on the Great Northern Railroad, and the salesman followed and seated himself in a seat in the rear of Mr. Arvaisais. The latter had a roll of bills in his pocket to the amount of $340, but as he thought the money was safe he soon went to sleep. When he awoke a few minutes later he saw the salesman alight from the coach at Joliette, Que. When he reached Montreal he went to the Windsor station to purchase a ticket for Lowell and it was there he found that his wallet was gone. He immediately called at police station No. 5 and reported the loss, giving a description of the salesman, but as yet the culprit is still at large.

Fortunately Mr. Arvaisais had $15 in gold in another pocket, or he would have been stranded in the Canadian metropolis. He returned to this city and immediately wrote to Mr. Grandchamps in St. Paulin to know if possible the name of the traveling salesman and the firm he works for, for he is of the opinion that he really is the man who got away with his money. However, Mr. Arvaisais says he will never forget his 1913 annual trip to Canada.

BURLEIGH ELECTED U. S. SENATOR

Chosen in Joint Convention of State Legislature at Augusta, Maine, Today

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 15.—Former Congressman Burleigh was elected United States senator by the state legislature in joint convention today. The vote was as follows: Burleigh 91, Gardner 82, Thompson 7. Ninety-one votes were necessary for a choice.

Rep. Stanley of Cumberland, a demagogue, who paired yesterday with Rep. Wise of Guilford, a republican absentee and did not vote, voted today for the progressive candidate. Otherwise the democratic vote was unimpeded. Representatives Stewart of East Livermore, Sanders of Greene, Matheson of Bangsely and Richardson of Canton, who voted yesterday for Mr. Thompson, the progressive candidate, also did so today and they were joined by

STATE BOARD OF TRADE MEETING HELD AT THE TEXTILE SCHOOL THIS AFTERNOON WITH OVER 250 PRESENT

CHARLES H. EAMES, Principal Lowell Textile School. HON. JAMES E. O'DONNELL, Mayor. GEORGE M. HARRIGAN, President Lowell Board of Trade.

The state board of trade arrived in this city shortly before noon and were taken charge of by the officials of the local board of trade and conveyed in special cars to the Textile school.

Chairman Harrigan, Mayor O'Donnell and Secretary John H. Murphy of the local board of trade, and other members received the visitors.

This was the January meeting of the state board and the second monthly meeting held outside Boston.

At the Textile school they were shown through the building and greeted by Principal Eames and other officials.

Dinner in Southwick Hall

At 1 o'clock they sat down to dinner in the main hall, and at the close of the repast President Harrigan rapped to order and extended a cordial greeting.

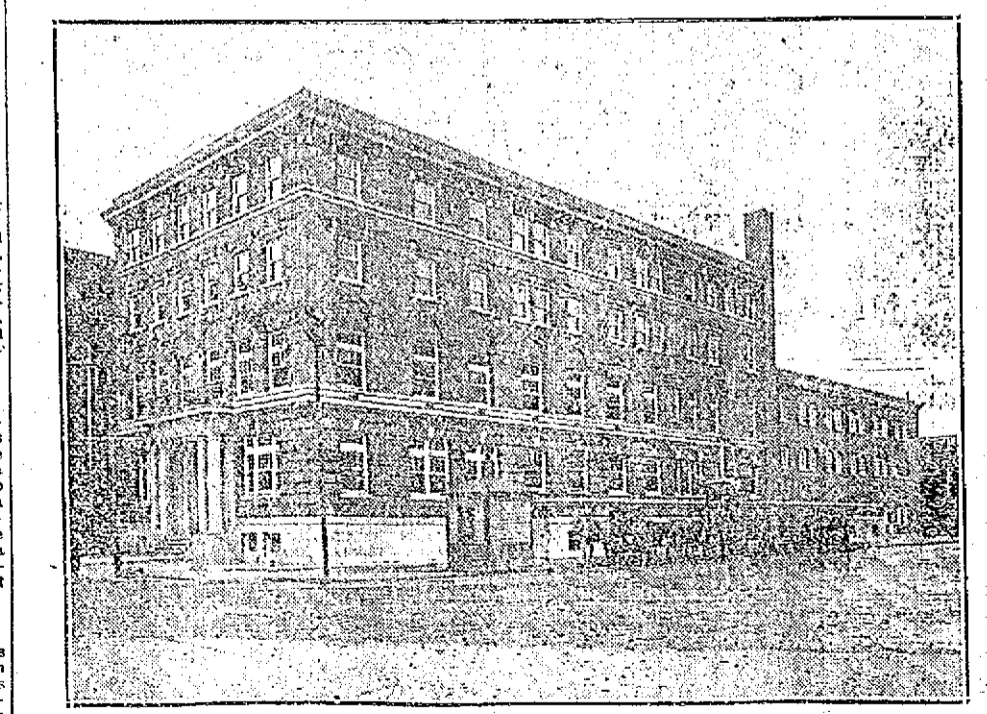

The banquet was served in Southwick hall and President Harrigan presided. The banquet hall presented a lively scene and because of the fact that Boston contributed nearly twice as many visitors as were reached for, and the large attendance of local members and their friends, there were a few who failed of seats at the first table.

The banquet was not served until 1 o'clock and immediately after the meeting of the executive committee of the state board. The monthly meetings of the executive committee are not, as a rule, very important and today's meeting was not out of the ordinary. State Secretary Richard L. Gray gave out after the meeting that only routine business, reading of reports, etc., had been attended to.

After Dinner Speeches

It was after 2 o'clock when President

NEW Y. M. C. A. BUILDING FORMALLY OPENED BY GOV. FOSS WITH FITTING EXERCISES AND LARGE GATHERING

THE NEW BUILDING AS IT APPEARS TODAY

It was Men's night at the Y. M. C. A. doors of the new structure were thrown wide open for a general inspection by the men of the city. All lights were turned on from cellar to the top floor and the scene was a most brilliant one. The reception committee was stationed in the spacious dining room and the visitors were warmly received. They were all extended a most cordial welcome and introduced to the guests of honor. After a thorough inspection of the building, during which time comments of all sorts were forthcoming, especially from the older class, who lauded the young folks, all repaired to the gymnasium, where the interesting program of speeches and musical numbers was given through.

The building is equipped with an assembly hall on the second floor, but this was thought inadequate to seat the large gathering and, therefore, seats

LOOKING UP BIRTH RATE IN CITY

Several Young Men With the Aid of Interpreters Doing the Work

Mayor James E. O'Donnell has received a letter from Mayor F. O. Hardy of Pittsburg asking for information relative to the workings of the street department of this city, and the former's reply was a long letter explaining how everything is in the hands of a commissioner, and a copy of the city charter was also enclosed in the letter.

The following young men are now busy looking up the birth rate of the city, as is done annually: Ward 1, James Dunn, 12 Gold street; ward 2, Richard O'Brien, 84 Adams street; ward 3, Martin E. McCarthy, 20 Phillips street; ward 4, William P. Boyle, Hill-dreth building; ward 5, William Mauren, 102 Pleasant street; ward 6, Marcel Cheuvert, 547 Lakeview avenue; ward 7, Thomas Dasset, 451 Adams street; ward 8, Thomas P. Kelly, Cambridge street and ward 9, Frank P. White, 58 Congress street. Anthony Popowicz is serving as Polish interpreter in wards 4, 5, and 6 and in fact everywhere he is needed. City Clerk Flynn has also made arrangements for a Greek interpreter.

Commissioner Donnell is out to make a clean record, while serving as the head of the street department. Sometime this week two men called on Mr. Donnell and asked to be put to work. When they were asked where they had been working of late, the reply was for some large corporation in this city. They were then told that the street department was not a refuge or a last resort for people out of work, and inasmuch as there was not much work in the department their services were not needed. They were also apprised of the fact that old employees will be given the preference, and also that the superintendent of streets was doing all the hiring to be done in the department.

City Auditor Paige is confined to his home with a severe attack of neuralgia and his absence from city hall is greatly felt by his many friends.

The following marriage intentions were registered at the city clerk's office since the last were published: Leo Vigeant, 189 Ford street, 22, steam fitter; Blanche Champagne, 514 Moody, 18, operative.

Christ Murillas, 116 Dummer street, 32, railroad foreman, Anastasia Gotro-boda, 116 Dummer street, 22, operative, Jan Wyszynski, 4 Sullivan court, 27, weaver; Helen Moran, 41 Elm street, 20, weaver.

Karol Baran, 41 Amory, 24, operative; Katarzyna Yaron, 41 Amory 21, opera-tive.

Horace P. Pease, Adams court, 63; Foster, Main A. Manning, Adams court, 63, at home.

TWO MEN ATTACK GIRL

Big Posse Scours Hills for Assailants

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Jan. 15.—Residents of Shamokin, several miles from this place, were in a state of alarm yesterday following an attack by two masked men upon Miss Edith Lee, 19 years, a regular resident of that place. Sheriff Chase and a posse are scouring the mountains to capture the girl's assailants.

She had gone to Johnson City and was returning home when her assailants jumped in front of her in the road and ordered her to stop.

At first she pleaded with the men to free her and when this met with no response she fought desperately. She was kicked and struck on the face and body repeatedly, when suddenly the men fled over to the approach of officers on their way from work. They assisted her home.

$225 TO ELECT WILSON

Expenses of Massachusetts Electors Paid

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—Colonel William A. Gaston, president of the National Republican league, and Joseph H. O'Neil, president of the Federal Trust company, each received $2 in fees and travel as compensation for work on the Massachusetts electoral college, which cast the vote of Massachusetts for Wilson and Marshall. Colonel Gaston was president of the college.

The total amount paid to the various electors is $225. The rate is $3 a day and $1 for each five miles travelled to and from the state house.

Other electors received the following amounts: Daniel E. Doherty of Westfield, $25; John W. Cunningham of Fall River, $17; Edward N. Lathrop of Springfield, $25; Frank H. Pope of Taunton, $17; John P. McManey of Blackstone, $17; Charles A. Russell of Taunton, $17; Walter H. Creighton of Lynn, $9; Thomas E. Dwyer of Wakefield, $8; James H. John B. Kenefick Was Presented a Beautiful Jewel

A large number of members of Court Middlesex, Foresters of America, attended a meeting of the organization held recently to install the officers recently elected. The gathering was presided over by Chief Ranger John B. Kenefick and D. G. C. B. Naresse (Gad-holes), together with Patrick F. Kennedy as worthy herald, officiated at the installation. The officers are the following: Chief ranger, Thomas F. Quinn; sub chief ranger, James J. Dunn; treasurer, Michael H. McNair; financial secretary, John J. Magee; recording secretary, James H. Hickey; senior woodward, Frank Price; junior woodward, Edward Brock; senior leader, Patrick J. Byrne; junior leader, Francis Donovan; leading, John H. Gordon; trustees, John B. Kenefick and Daniel H. Quinn.

A letter from the authorities of the grand court of Massachusetts was read and it contained the information that prizes were offered by the past grand chief rangers, the grand chief rangers and the executive council to the courts making the largest net gain from January to April. This is to include the members of the various branches to even greater energy and activity than in the past to increase the membership. A report was read by the chairman of the ways and means committee, and this committee will convene tomorrow night to discuss further plans.

During the meeting the distinguished chief ranger, on behalf of the members of the court, presented the retiring chief ranger, Mr. John B. Kenefick, a beautiful emblematic jewel and the past chief ranger's diploma in an attractive frame. Mr. Kenefick in responding to this presentation speech expressed his thanks for the gift and his appreciation of the spirit in which it was given. He also complimented the other officers who had been his assistants during his term of office. The other officers of the order gave brief addresses and the meeting was closed with a social hour.

GROSS AND RIVERS DRAW

Whirlwind Bout at New York Last Night

NOAH BRUSSO WON FROM HONEY MELODY

O'Hourke and Burke Boxed Draw at Newburyport—Loughrey Given Decision Over Alberts in Hard Battle.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—In a whirlwind flash, Joe Rivers turned the scales of fortune which had set in against him early and earned a draw with Leach Cross in a 16-round bout at the Empire A. C. last night.

The Californian fought like a wildcat in the last round and had Cross tired and distressed when the bell rang. But he was unable to put the finishing wallop in, and Cross who gained a lead in the early rounds, was able to divide the honors with the aggressive Mexican.

The battle was hard and fast from start to finish. Cross took a decided lead early and gained the only knockdown of the bout. He scored this in the second round with a clean left hook to the jaw. In the third he put Joe's nose and in the eighth and ninth opened the Californian's lip.

Up to the final round Cross had the better of the bout by a small margin. In the middle session Rivers did the better work, his aggressive tactics and his body punches causing the tide to turn slightly. At the end Rivers was strong and aggressive. Cross tired and weak.

Rivers lost a chance to win decisively by not starting his fast, hard hitting early. Had he been as aggressive in the last three rounds instead of the

A $50,000 MONUMENT

To be Erected in Germantown, Pa.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Endorsing the arrangement of the board of award, Secretary of War Stimson has approved the model submitted by Albert Jaegers of New York for the monument to be erected at Germantown, Pa., in commemoration of the founding of the German settlement there in 1638. Congress appropriated $25,000 and the citizens of Pennsylvania a like amount for the monument. A number of leading sculptors submitted designs and the selection was left to a committee consisting of the secretary of war, the governor of Pennsylvania and the president of the monument society. A special committee of artists which assisted the judges reported unanimously in favor of the Jaegers design.

MINOR ABESSINIA ARRIVED

Disabled Hamburg Liner Reached New York Under Her Own Steam Today

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The disabled Hamburg-American line freighter Abessinia arrived safely at Halifax today under her own steam, according to a telegram received by the line here.

Wireless reports had told of her having broken a crank shaft and losing her rudder and it was feared that the White Star freighter American which volunteered to assist her to port had lost her in the fog. This gave rise yesterday to reports that the Abessinia was helplessly adrift. Apparently repairs were effected so that the crippled vessel proceeded without assistance. She has a crew of 40.

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING OPENED

the ages, the demand of the time has been for strong men.

"From the days when men made their homes in the caves of the earth and struggled for their possession with the fierce cave bear, down to the present day, strong men have been the demand of the age. During the palmy days of Sparta, the state sought to secure strong men to fight their battles by having all the babies that were born, examined by councils of the older men, and all who were not physically perfect were thrown into the cave-in active membership in the immediate future.

As I remarked a moment ago, Lowell is a cosmopolitan city. I might remark parenthetically, that, today, almost within hearing of my voice nearly 10,000 residents and citizens of the future are observing the opening of the new Y. M. C. A. building.

As mayor of Lowell, I offer you, the deep respect and esteem and the sincerest wishes of the entire community.

Secretary Hearn

The presiding officer then called association, which now numbers over 2000 centers on this continent, and has nearly 5000 local associations throughout the world. The American associations number over half a million members and own association and club houses to the value of approximately $50,000,000.

"I think the association has done well to extend the scope of its activities into the educational and industrial field in connection with our American colleges. It has done, and is doing splendid service. It has spread into the small towns and its membership is growing in this field. Its libraries are among the most extensive and important collections of books that we have. It has become a great power throughout the United States, a power and the hopes which animate our day and generation.

"This building, which I have both pleasure and honor in declaring open, starts on its mission under most favorable auspices.

"It represents the local branch of that great movement of three years ago, in which $2,000,000 was raised by popular subscription for Y. M. C. A. buildings in Boston, Lowell, Lawrence and other centers.

"The great public interest which was aroused in this movement and the splendid public response which was made to it, mark it as one of the most notable humanitarian movements of recent times.

"I feel confident that an enterprise which has come into existence under such conditions of tremendous public approval and endorsement must continue, not merely as a tribute to the generosity of the community, but as a living force in the future life of Lowell and the commonwealth.

"I join with you in congratulating Mr. Fred A. Flather, chairman, and Mr. John Jacob Rogers, secretary of the movement which resulted in this building and in congratulating to less the able management and leadership under which this building will continue its field of usefulness."

Hon. Frederick Fosdick

The last speaker of the evening, but not the least, was Hon. Frederick Fosdick, former mayor of Fitchburg, and member of the state committee of the Y. M. C. A., who struck the witty note. He first made an appeal for a universal petition to the governor for the men behind the bars, at the same time pointing to several persons who were standing behind a large screen on the running track of the gymnasium.

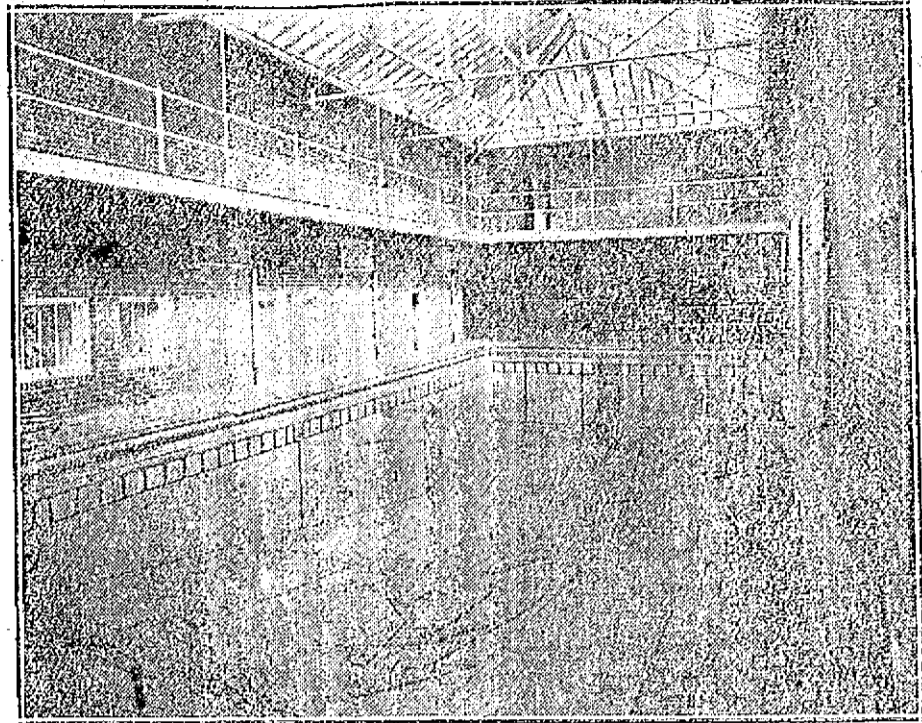

The speaker kept his listeners in a roar of laughter for fully 10 minutes, and while his remarks were witty they were also very interesting. He spoke of the work of the association and gave some sound advice to the Lowell members, telling them not to abandon their task now that the building is erected, but to continue their arduous work. He closed by saying, "If you don't contribute to this great building and its maintenance, you will be unfair to your city and to yourself."

In the course of the evening Prof. Albert Edmund Brown, who was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Brown, rendered several vocal selections. He was booked for two numbers, but his listeners would not rest until he had doubled that number. His singing, which was magnificent, greatly pleased the large audience.

The committee on reception included the following: F. A. Bowen, president; S. H. Thomson, vice president; W. H. G. Wright, clerk; W. H. Hoyt, treasurer; D. E. Yarnell, M. D., secretary; M. D. Clay, C. P. Fleming, Robert Filand, C. F. Grover, F. W. Hall, C. E. Meader, C. Midgley, E. G. Morrison, C. H. Nelson, C. R. Redway, J. J. Rogers, W. E. erns as not being worth raising, there to become the prey of wild beasts. They were seeking after physical perfection, and succeeded in developing a race of men and women that have stood for ages as examples of bodily strength and vigor.

"The strong men called for at the present time, are not only men of strong bodily vigor, but men who are strong morally and spiritually, and it is to help make the men of today measure up to these requirements that this building was presented to the association.

"This cannot be done by making it a place exclusively for social enjoyment, but solely for the development of physical strength, desirable as this may be, but by making it a center of civic righteousness where the young men of our city, without distinction of race or creed, shall be fitted and trained to fill the places of men now upon the stage of action.

"To this end, we invite the co-operation of every one who is seeking the best interests of our city; every one who realizes that the boys and young men of today will in the not distant future, be the men who will manage and direct the affairs of our city along its varied lines, and decide the questions that arise regarding its policy and management.

"When the rulers of our cities and states are men who have been trained in the ways of civil righteousness, we need have the assurance of Holy Writ that 'Blessed is that nation whose God is the Lord.'"

Mayor O'Donnell's Address

Mayor James E. O'Donnell was next introduced and he said a few good words in behalf of the association and its building. His address was as follows:

"It affords me great pleasure, as mayor of our city, to extend to the members of the Y. M. C. A., upon the completion of their new home, the hearty congratulations of one of the most cosmopolitan communities in the United States, the city of Lowell.

Henceforth, in enumerating the attractions of this city to the stranger, proudly, we shall include this splendid upon Edward Hearn, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Rhode Island and Massachusetts, who spoke interestingly on the work in progress under his jurisdiction. He said that 47,000 names have been enrolled in the two states, and that indications point to a tremendous increase of membership in the future. He spoke of the Fall River building erected a short time ago, and referring to the good derived from the Y. M. C. A. said that last year in both states over 6000 foreigners studied English at the association rooms, and over 30,000 took the regular course. He concluded by extending the Lowell branch of the association the best wishes of the 126 locals he represents.

At the close of Mr. Hearn's address the orchestra struck up a march and this was done in the nick of time, for making for better conditions and finer citizenship.

"I am particularly pleased to see such a magnificent example of Y. M. C. A. activity in one of the great textile centers of the state.

"I believe that this institution has an unusual opportunity for great public service in connection with the textile field. The textile industry is drawing to our country and state great numbers of foreigners, and these are becoming absorbed into our industries faster than they become identified with the forms and institutions of democratic society.

"One of the most serious problems confronting us consists in helping these immigrants to a better understanding of what our civilization stands for, of teaching them the fun-

at that very moment Governor Eugene X. Foss escorted by Dr. D. E. Yarnell, secretary of the local association, Congressman-elect John Jacob Rogers and Adjutant-General Gardner W. Pearson, entered the hall. His Excellency was greeted with loud and prolonged applause and was given a rousing reception. Immediately Mr. Bowen introduced the governor as the next speaker, and the man to formally and officially declare the new building open.

Governor Foss

Governor Foss thanked the assembly for the fine reception given him and then spoke in the following terms:

"The city of Lowell is to be congratulated on the completion of this splendid building; and I also take this occasion to congratulate you upon the public spirit and civic loyalty which it represents. I am deeply impressed by the power of service to the community which an institution of this character possesses.

"All over the world the spirit of the Young Men's Christian Association is growing and it is everywhere a source of pride.

"It is an uplifting force, broad and liberal, making for strong, intelligent manhood and for citizenship of the highest type. I like its blending of moral teachings with educational and athletic instruction, and the opportunity it affords for forming social acquaintance and lasting friendships. It is a school of manhood and of citizenship—a modern university.

"Originating in London less than 70 years ago, the fundamental idea of the Young Men's Christian Association was brought to the United States in 1851. Although started substantially at the same time in New York, Montreal and Boston, it was in Boston that the idea took root most firmly, and the wonderful growth of the association has been in effect a continuous broadening and branching from Massachusetts as a center.

"I think we have cause for honest pride in the leadership of Massachusetts, throughout the evolution of this

History of the Y. M. C. A.

At the call of A. B. Woodworth and the late Dr. George C. Osgood, a meeting of men was held in the reception room of Huntington hall, Feb. 4, 1857, to consider the question of a Young Men's Christian Association. Twelve churches were represented by 44 members. The proposition had been appointed to draft constitution and by-laws. These were accepted at a meeting in January, and the organization was completed by an election of officers, Feb. 4, 1857. Of the men present at the first meeting or enrolled in the long list of officers, directors or committees chosen at the last meeting, only six, so far as known, are still living and are residents of Lowell. These are A. B. Woodworth, Earl A. Thissell, Andrew Liddell, Rev. S. A. Abbott, Nathan P. Lamson, Theo. P. Gardner, Dr. William G. Ward, Benjamin Holt, William C. Stevenson, Walter H. McDaniel, Charles H. Robbins, Frederick Bailey, Findlay Stevenson and Dr. A. W. Burnham.

L. W. Beard was the first president and James G. Buttick the first treasurer. An association which had been formed in connection with the First Congregational church in 1858, but which had suspended meetings during the Civil war, disbanded as soon as the general association was organized, and gave to the new organization all its many books, papers and other property.

The association secured and fitted up rooms in Barristers hall and dedicated them April 4, 1857. D. W. Osgood was chosen librarian. Later in the year, George C. Osgood was elected to succeed him.

The first year's expenses were $167.44, of which about $100 was for current expenses and the balance for fitting up rooms. On Feb. 17, 1858, the association was duly incorporated. A reading room was maintained and re-adequate to the maintenance of health and happiness.

"But it remains as the duty of the schools, the churches, and such institutions as this, to draw our foreign population into the great body of the commonwealth itself, to make them citizens, and to teach them and bring them into sympathy with the ideals structure, not particularly for its own intrinsic beauty, but for what it represents—The Young Men's Christian Association—a progressive and practical power for good in the moral, mental and physical development of the youth and manhood of our beloved home city. Someone once remarked: "Show me a city that supports a flourishing Y. M. C. A., and I will show you a city of good morals." The city of Lowell is the happy possessor of both and the gentleman was right in his statement.

That the city of Lowell appreciates this association was impressively demonstrated as the hands of the clock actually flew round the dial, marking the general and generous response to the call for a building fund. Now that the building is completed, those who came to the front to start the work need have no fear as to its maintenance or future success, for wherever one goes among men in this city, mention of the Y. M. C. A. is invariably followed by a most enthusiastic description of its manifold attractions and advantages, which surely means a great increase

Later, after a year's hard work, the association bought, fitted up and dedicated, on Dec. 17, 1859, the recently vacated building in Hurd street. Since then its work has been one by young men for young men and through it a very wide influence for good has been exerted throughout the city.

EXPLOSION IN TUNNEL

Two Killed and Others Seriously Injured

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—Two workmen were killed, three are missing and five others were seriously injured today by an explosion in a tunnel 50 feet under ground, at East 73d street, and Cottage Grove avenue. It was the second explosion in the tunnel in six hours, three men having been seriously burned in an explosion late last night. Both blasts are believed to have been caused by fumes which gathered following the discharge of dynamite used in blasting rock.

The tunnel is being constructed to connect the south park pumping station at East 55th street with the city water tunnel at East 73d street.

New Pension Law

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—Operation of the new pension law which became effective Jan. 1, and which provides that pension checks must be delivered to the pensioner in person, has resulted in a return to the Chicago pension office of checks totalling $300,000.

Out of 600,000 checks mailed for the first quarter of 1913 more than 5000 have been returned because postal authorities have been unable to find the veteran to whom they were made out and make the delivery in person. The checks vary in amount from $12 to $70 and postmasters are not permitted to forward them.

MISS CURTIS AND WATSON ELECTED

Former Defeated Harris for the School Board—Watson Elected Over Hewitt

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—The election of James A. Watson, "Jerry," to the city council was the big surprise of the municipal election yesterday.

Mr. Watson ran third, defeating Lewis J. Hewitt, the candidate of the Citizens' Municipal league by 218 votes.

Councillors John J. Attridge and Walter L. Collins were re-elected. Mr. Attridge led the ticket with 32,974 votes. Mr. Collins was second with 32,632 votes. Mr. Watson third with 24,632 votes, and Mr. Hewitt ran last with 23,845 votes.

Miss Frances G. Curtis, the Public School association candidate for school committee defeated Isaac Harris, the candidate backed by Mayor Fitzgerald and the democratic city committee by a majority of 6008 votes. Miss Curtis received 27,125 votes as against 23,117 received by Mr. Harris.

License was carried by a majority of 15,243.

The only ward in the city which went against license was Ward 26, or Hyde Park. The vote in Hyde Park against license was 544, as against 538 in favor.

The city went on record for the acceptance of the eight-hour bill for public employees by a vote of 25,551 to 2,050.

The interest in the election was very slight. About 50,000, or less than 50 per cent. of the registered vote of the city was cast. The total vote was about 20,000 less than last year.

The defeat of Mr. Harris for the school committee and the election of Mr. Watson to the city council are not of much significance politically.

Miss Curtis carried 13 of the 25 wards of the city over Mr. Harris—Wards 1, 7, 10, 11, 12, 16, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25 and 26. The democratic machine held its strength in the downtown wards, but the vote was fairly even in South Boston and in the outlying wards.

In the council fight "Jerry" Watson carried 16 out of the 26 wards. The wards in which Mr. Hewitt ran ahead of him were 9, 10, 11, 12, 20, 21, 23, 24, 25 and 26.

Losses for Watson

Mr. Watson was an independent candidate and his victory cannot be attributed to the democratic city machine. He made a very active personal campaign in every ward in the city. At the last moment the democratic organization apparently went on the line for him. In ward 8 Representative Lomasney declared for Mr. Watson and the total of votes in this district showed Attridge 1869, Hewitt 844, Collins 1060 and Watson 1270.

Mr. Watson received big majorities in the democratic wards.

Wanted Gentry in Council

To a large extent Mr. Watson's victory was due to the feeling that it would be a good thing to add a little sanity to the proceedings of the city council by electing a member who was opposed to the reform forces. The Citizens' Municipal league and the Good Government association had endorsed the candidacies of Attridge, Collins and Hewitt.

The vote showed that in many of the democratic wards there was considerable "buckling" for Mr. Watson. The leaders of the Citizens' Municipal league movement stated last night that the election of Mr. Watson was due to the small vote to a large extent.

Whatever disappointment they felt because of the election of Mr. Watson was repaired to a large extent by the satisfaction ensuing from the election of Miss Curtis in the face of the fight made by the mayor and the democratic organization.

RESCUERS QUIT LINER

Crippled Steamer Finally Reaches Port

QUEENSTOWN, Ireland, Jan. 15.—The British steamer Snowden Range has reached Queenstown harbor after extraordinary adventures. Leaving from Philadelphia for Louth, Scotland, Nov. 23, she lost her rudder and was not spoken for so long a time that she was placed on the overdue list.

The British steamer, Welshman, which left Liverpool on Dec. 25, found the Snowden Range off of control in a great storm, about 500 miles to the westward, and took her in tow.

Rescuers Flee

Arriving off Dun's Rock yesterday, the gale was so fierce that the Welshman and two tugs, which had been sent to the rescue, were obliged to abandon the crippled steamer and run to the harbor for shelter.

The Snowden Range anchored, three miles off the coast in a critical position, and the Admiralty despatched a tug with a lifeboat to rescue the crew. Put in the morning such a contrary surprise, her commander brought her safely into the harbor without any assistance and without even a pilot.

It is reported that the Snowden Range's anchor dragged and she was literally driven by the gale into the harbor. She drifted close to the rocks in Louth, all day, but did not strike. She then passed safely over the dangerous harbor rocks and was brought up only when she struck the bank at the southern side of Spike Island, where she now lies on a soft bottom, without danger.

Shipping people say that it would have been a daring thing to venture to enter the harbor in such a gale, even for a vessel under full control.

File Suits Amounting to $10,000,000

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Fifty lawyers, who hope to obtain for their clients more than $10,000,000 damages for loss of life and property on the steamer Titanic, were arrayed against attorneys for the White Star line in the United States district court yesterday, the expiration of the time limit set by the court for filing suits. The limit was extended to Feb. 15.

Contents $100,000 Limit

The White Star line contends that its entire liability is limited under the United States statutes to less than $100,000—the value of recovered wreckage and passage money. American claimants allege that the line cannot claim this limitation because it was itself responsible for the loss of life by reason of personal negligence.

If their assertion in this respect is sustained, the claimants will recover full damages. But even if this claim is not upheld, the contention of A. L. Brumham, representing 29 claimants, is that the White Star line's liability can only be limited by the provisions of the British law, which would compel the company to pay total damages of about $3,000,000.

The line requires that action of damages for loss of life must be begun within a year of the date of the sinking of the ship, and lawyers opposing the White Star line charged that the company was endeavoring to mislead claimants so that their right to sue would be lost.

Mr. Brumham has instituted an appeal in the court of appeals, where he hopes to determine fully the rights of the death claimants to bring suit for full damages. Because of this appeal, the lower court granted yesterday's postponement.

Humorous Address

Frederick A. Flather, the treasurer of the Boot club, said that it was a pleasure to have exactly a surprise to him, to note the evidences of talent in the Working Girls' club of the Boot mills. "When we know that we are making some of the best goods in the market, we must realize that we have talent here. The principal wish I have for all of you is that you always feel that the Boot mills is a good place to work."

Agent E. W. Thomas commended the work of the club, and said that no such organization as this exists in any place in the country, except the Boot mills—a club of girls meeting in a recreation room separated by only a partition wall from the weaving room.

Words of congratulations and good cheer were spoken in turn by Mr. Fred Lacy, general superintendent, and by Messrs. Hunter, Fish, Nelson, Worth, Nyman, Hulse, Abbott, Ferguson, McMillan and Cunningham.

Mr. Lacy L. Gilman—referred to by the president as the "best friend" of the club, was called upon, and said she had been wondering if a men's club at the Boot mills would not be a good thing. "Any time that the men are ready," she said, "the girls club stands ready to help them, if they need us. If they do not need us, we will run against them, and we will see which will be the better club, on January 1st, 1914."

The meeting closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Good time, Falcons, Assn., Thurs. eve.

THE PERCENTAGE BASIS

May be Used in Ranking Base Runners

Base runners in the not far distant future, may be ranked on a percentage basis, just as the work of the batters, fielders and pitchers is now tabulated. It has been suggested that a record be kept of the number of times a man is caught trying to steal and the total of unsuccessful attempts be added to his stolen bases and then divided into them. The result would, it is thought, give a correct line on a man's base-running ability.

Clyde Milan of the Senators was based on the American League's Ruffles brigade last year, pilfering 85 bases. The speedy Washington star, who was well up in the running for the Chalmers American league trophy had an average of 37.1 steals per game, according to the proposed way of reckoning, but that record hardly does him justice.

J. Clyde actually was a base runner of the 333 class, since he was stopped by the backstops on only 31 occasions when he started to steal. The Cleveland catchers, however, to say, tagged Milan the greatest number of times, mauling him in seven attempts to piff, a reasonable explanation for their success in throwing him out so frequently is that he was not a bit backward about testing their wings.

Milan was thrown out five times by the New York backstops, four times by the wind paddlers of the St. Louis, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia teams and thrice by the stockmen of the Detroit club.

HELD THEIR ANNUAL MEETING

Girls' Club of Boot Mills Entertains the Mill Officials

A great deal has been said and written about the Girls' club of the Boot mills and all that has been said in favor of that unique organization is true and praise will always be due the club.

The club held its annual meeting and supper last night in the recreation rooms at the mill and the members and their friends had a jolly good time.

The Girls' club has done a great deal not only for the mill girls but it has also brought about a friendship and friendliness between the employer and employees that cannot fail of good on both sides. Mill officials and their wives were present at the meeting and they are very much interested in the doings of the club. The Boot mill has the distinction of being the only mill in the country having a Girls' club meeting in a mill room set apart for recreation purposes. The club now has about 300 members.

The president of the club, Miss Minnie O'Connell, presided at the exercises following a very fine supper that was nicely served. There was piano music by Miss Anna Bradley and Mr. Joseph Higginbottom, and songs by Miss Carroll, Miss Nellie Lynch and Miss Witham.

At the opening of the program, the president called upon Mr. E. L. Kirby, who spoke a few words in commendation of the club and its objects. In her own address of welcome, Miss O'Connell said that the object of the club is to try to make every woman and girl in the mill as happy as possible. During the noon hour, there is rest and recreation for them. To be entirely successful, she said, the hearty cooperation of all the girls is necessary, and that, with the good advice of Mrs. Gilman, has made the club what it is. She thanked the mill managers for their kindness shown on so many occasions. In closing, she referred to the loss sustained by the club in the death of Miss Della Conway, who was one of its most efficient members.

The report of the treasurer, Miss Mary Canvey, was very encouraging. The receipts of the club during the year 1912 were $34.21, and the balance on hand, January 1, 1913, was $267.95.

The report of the secretary, Miss Mary Canvey, showed a membership of over 300.

Miss Anna Bradley told of the work of the relief committee, during the strike of 1912. Help was given to every employee of $1.21, and the balance on hand, January 1, 1913, was $267.95.

THROWN BETWEEN RAILS

Fireman Fell When the Drawbar Broke

FOOT WAS CAUGHT BY THE TENDER TRUCKS

He Directed Rescue Work and Told Men Not to Alarm His Sick Wife—He Was Taken to the Hospital

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—William J. Ackerman, 22, a Boston & Albany fireman, last night coolly directed the work of his release from beneath the trucks of the tender of his engine, by which his right foot was caught, after he had been thrown between the rails when the drawbar between the engine and tender broke.

During all the time that his companions were working to effect his rescue Ackerman's first thoughts were for his wife, who is ill at her home, 15 Electric avenue, Brighton.

He cautioned his fellow workers not to alarm her more than necessary when they informed her of the accident that had befallen him.

Thrown Between Rails

Ackerman was firing a shifting engine with a train of 31 empty cars, bound from Cambridge to Brighton, when the drawbar between the locomotive and the tender broke at the Massachusetts avenue storage house. He was standing on the iron platform just over the drawbar at the time, and when the engine drew away from the tender was thrown between the rails.

The breaking of the drawbar automatically shut off the air brakes on the tender and the freight cars, so that the train went on only a few feet after he fell beneath it. There was sufficient space between the axles of the tender's forward trucks so that they passed over him without injuring him. His right foot, however, was extended upon one of the rails after the forward truck passed, and was caught by the rear truck just as it stopped.

Directs Rescue Work

Two brakemen, who had been riding in the cab of the locomotive, ran back as soon as the engine succeeded in stopping it, and found Ackerman lying beneath the tender with his right foot jammed beneath one wheel of the rear truck. He had retained his presence of mind when the coupling broke and had thrown himself in such a way that only his foot was caught by the wheels.

When the brakemen reached him, Ackerman told them to bring the engine back so that it could push the tender a few feet and thus release his foot. Engineer Walter B. Smith reversed the locomotive and ran it slowly up to the tender. Just before it reached the tender the air brakes were released on the stalled cars, and the locomotive pushed the train back far enough to set Ackerman free.

He was taken from beneath the tender and carried to the Cambridge Reformer hospital. Physicians there said last night that, although his ankle was badly bruised, they hoped to be able to save his leg.

LOWELL DAY NURSERY

Sun Reporter Finds Lot of Happy Children

The Lowell Day Nursery on Kirk street is always a busy place. A Sun reporter happened to stroll in there the other day for a short visit. There were about a dozen youngsters in one of the large play rooms, and they did not seem to be much perturbed by the presence of a stranger. There was nothing formal about that visit; the little folks who were being visited didn't shake hands and say, "How do you do?" and sit up stiffly in their chairs and talk about the cold weather we're having. Nothing of the kind. They serenely kept on playing or quarreling or dozing as the case might be, utterly oblivious of anyone but themselves. Some of the smaller ones, ignoring the proprieties in a very shocking manner, and continued to repeat on the floor, kicking their fat legs with manifestations of great glee. One wee maiden, who looked like an pansy, wrapped in the folds of a blue blanket, sat up very straight on a settee, and slept soundly in spite of her uncomfortable position. The youngest child in the room occupied the place of honor in the centre of the floor and seemed to have all the toys at her disposal. When one of her neighbors attempted to appropriate a diminutive train she began to howl vociferously and could only be induced to stop by the return of her toy.

About half of the children were "taking a nap" upstairs in the rows of little cribs. It was very rude to disturb them, but they took the interruption so good-naturedly, and most of them refused to stay in bed when a visitor was around, though some few sleep-heads slumbered on peacefully. There was a lively scene while the youngsters were getting up; the more courageous ones wouldn't wait for the nurse to assist them over the sides of their cribs but clambered out themselves, to the imminent danger of life and limb. One small girl evidently objected to visitors for she bounded out of bed with wonderful agility, and disappeared from view. A few minutes later, however, one lousied crib, the extreme end of which a blue ribbon hung limply, was seen in the doorway, and it is to be supposed that the owner of the crib was overcome with curiosity, like all her sex.

It happened that the baby in the place also had hair of an extremely red hue. The visitor was allowed to inspect the said infant's charms as it lay asleep, and feeling compelled to make some remark appropriate to the ceremonious occasion, he managed, after considerable reflection, to say, "He's a real nice baby."

"He," returned the nurse, in an indignation which, "why it's a girl boy. Her name is Sadie. I should think you could tell a boy from a girl."

The visitor accepted the rebuke meekly, admitting that he might know a great deal more of babies.

The children at the nursery are all happy and contented-looking. The institution is to be commended for the good work it is doing, in caring for the little boys and girls whose parents have to be away at work all day.

MANY WERE PRESENT

To Enjoy the Hospitality of the Young Men's Catholic Institute at Their Ladies' Night Last Evening

The Young Men's Catholic Institute held another of their pleasing ladies' nights at their rooms in Stackpole street last evening and the affair was very largely attended by members and friends of the organization. Bruders' orchestra furnished excellent music for a concert, and for the dancing which followed.

There was a pleasing program of music and song included in the entertainment. The pool and billiard tables, bowling alleys and other games were open to the guests who were not slow in taking advantage of them and from these they derived considerable enjoyment. Refreshments were served later in the evening. The affair was in charge of President James Gilligan.

ECZEMA LIKE RASH ITCHING INTENSE

Could Not Sleep at Night. Scratched, Causing Sores to Form. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In Two Months Ear Ail Healed.

R. F. D. No. 2, Southbridge, Mass.—"I had eczema in one of my ears which made me suffer a good deal. I could not sleep at night. It was itchy and sore. The eczema broke out all over my face and neck. I scratched, causing sores to form. My ear was swelling, but a raw sore and I could not get the skin to grow, as it would run and then when it would dry for a few days, would main scales. I was ashamed to go anywhere my ear looked so badly.

"I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and—Ointment without any relief. So I sent for a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and when I had used them two weeks I began to see they were helping me, so I bought some Cuticura Soap and Ointment and kept on using them. I washed my ear three times a day with Cuticura Soap and then put the Cuticura Ointment on and in two months' time my ear was all healed up." (Signed) Mrs. Alex. Bouvier, Nov. 12, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment do so much for poor complexioned, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, and cost so little that it is almost criminal not to use them. Sold by dealers throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 23-p. book on the skin and scalp. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

Here's a hunch!

P. A.'s got a bunch of imitators—right smart proof it's all wool and a yard wide!

Two things are never counterfeited—plugged nickels and ordinary tobaccos! Prince Albert sort of upset the fashion in pipe and cigarette tobacco, because it won't sting your tongue (bite's cut out by a patented process), because it tastes delicious and because it has fragrance that makes it welcome in any home or office. Out of the tall timbers came the substitutes—"just as good as P. A."—"just like P. A."—and that sort of thing! Just trying to warp in!

Let this sink deep: Every time that chaff's handed you, make a bee line for a tin of Prince Albert. Then you're in O. K. Realize that imitation is the bulkiest advertisement P. A. can have! Get that? There's just one "joy smoke" in this world for you, whether you jam it in a jimmy pipe or roll up a cigarette—that's Prince Albert.

You get a new view of life's joys if you'll buy a package of P. A. and roll up a cigarette. It's great—fresh, fragrant, sweet. Right now, put it on your sure thing list. It's worth a bet.

WOMEN ARE SO EASY

I Couldn't Help Steal
Says Girl

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—After a six weeks' career as an alleged pickpocket, 18-year-old Bessie Gartenberg is in the hands of the police today, admitting, the detective says, that she left her $5 a week position in a cigarette factory to deliberately turn thief "because it looked so easy." Upon her arraignment in court she was attired in a long fur coat and carried a lynx pillow muff.

"Women are so easy, I just couldn't help it," she said, "and I wanted some fine clothes to attract a husband."

A "CULINARY CRUISER"

For Navy Needed, Says
Dr. Stokes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Need for a "culinary cruiser" for shore work in the navy is to be impressed on congress by Dr. Charles Stokes, surgeon general of the service who wants the legislature to make appropriation for a women's dietician. The new adjunct to the navy will be given charge of the female nurses in the various naval hospitals insofar as their duties as cooks are concerned and would have more or less of a roving commission. General Stokes is convinced that she would save her salary expenses many times over in showing the nurses the proper methods of preparing hospital menus, instructing them how to purchase supplies and pointing out means to avoid waste. He would have the new official divide her time between the hospital and those in Annapolis, Philadelphia, New York and Boston.

MATRIMONIAL

Miss Mary Muir of 19 Fifth street was united in marriage to Mr. James Dinwiddie of 1215 Division street, Indianapolis, Ind., by Rev. W. S. Skinner of the Protestant church in Indianapolis. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Dinwiddie left on a wedding trip to Terre Haute, where a reception was tendered the happy couple. They were presented a handsome silver service from the many friends of the bridegroom in that city. Mr. and Mrs. Dinwiddie will make their home at Indianapolis, Ind.

LAMOUREUX-HEBERT

A pretty marriage was solemnized this morning at St. Louis church, when Mr. Joseph Urban Lamoureux and Miss Josephine Hebert two popular young people of West Centralville, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at a nuptial mass celebrated at 7 o'clock by a cousin of the bride, Rev. Herve Racette, O. M. I., of Tewksbury. The couple were attended by Messrs. Francis Hebert and J. B. Landry. During the mass fine music was rendered by the regular church choir, of which the bride is a member. At the close of the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, 35 Essex street, where a dainty dinner was served, followed by a reception.

CHELMSFORD

The officers were elected at the last business meeting of the North Chelmsford Boy Scouts. They are as follows: President, Clifton Lakin; Vice-president, Roy Lakin; secretary, Alfred Dodge; treasurer, Raymond Ballinger; assistant treasurer, Warren Prince; trustees, Messrs. Arthur Trubey, Alfred Freese and Edgar Dixon. The meeting was at their headquarters and was largely attended. The first publication of the paper printed on their new press was a memorial to which the paper is called "The Tomahawk."

Dr. Amasa Howard of the Lowell road is the proud possessor of a valuable bull dog, his other dog being killed in an accident some time ago. The dog he now has was the late Dr. Porter's of Lowell, one of Dr. Howard's many friends.

The basket ball season will be reopened this evening with Chelmsford First against the Co. K five, of Lowell, and Chelmsford Second will play the Lowell Textile Chemists. The games promise to be interesting as they will play out of town parties altogether.

At the town meeting of the Chelmsford Grange the year's program will be completed by the new lecturer, Miss Eliza Spaulding. Miss Spaulding is very prominent in all lodges, being besides lecturer in the Grange, noble grand in the Highland Rebekahs.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rose of Sussex, N. H. have returned home after a short stay with Mr. Rose's mother, Mrs. George Rose on Littleton street.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Smith has been brightened by the arrival of a baby boy at West Chelmsford.

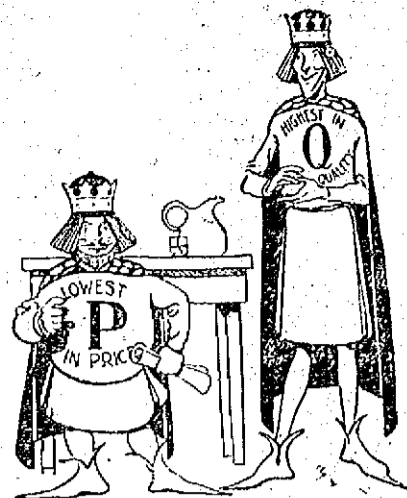

Mrs. John J. Dunn of the West village is entertaining Miss Margaret O'Brien, her niece, from Westford.

Two acts to relieve the school situation in several towns of the state were introduced in the senate today by Edwin C. Fier of Cranston. The first provides for a state appropriation of $150,000 a year to be apportioned to the schools in the towns. The second appropriates $10,000 monthly, to be apportioned by the state board of education.

A DOUBLE CELEBRATION

In Waltham, Gov. Foss a Guest

WALTHAM, Jan. 15.—Governor Eugene N. Foss and the mayors of many Massachusetts cities were guests today at exercises in connection with the 175th anniversary of the incorporation of Waltham as a town. The celebration also commemorated the centenary of the establishment in Waltham of the first cotton cloth mill in the country using power machinery.

A reception to the visiting guests, the ringing of salutes and ringing of bells, a historical address by Thomas F. Kearns and an evening banquet made up the anniversary program. Mayor Patrick Duane presided at the gatherings.

25 CENT "DANDERINE" FOR FALLING HAIR AND DANDRUFF—GROWS HAIR

DON'T PAY 50 CENTS FOR WORTHLESS HAIR TONICS—USE OLD, RELIABLE, HARMLESS "DANDERINE"—GET RESULTS.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scrappy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast.

A little Danderine tonight—now—anytime—will surely save your hair. Get a 25 cent bottle of Krawford's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and buoyant and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Member of the Associated Press
THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

THE NEW SENATOR

The selection of Congressman John W. Weeks as the new senator from Massachusetts is evidence of the fact that the republican party in this state has learned nothing from the recent national election. There was an opportunity offered, by the election of a republican of progressive ideas, to bring together, in some measure at least, the two wings of the party. But Mr. Weeks, personally a gentleman of high standing and great ability, nevertheless represents those same standing interests that Senator Crane has so faithfully stood for. His success in the republican caucus was hailed with satisfaction by the vested interests of the state, but did not arouse enthusiasm among the rank and file of the voters.

Let us not be misunderstood. A few years ago the election of Mr. Weeks would have been considered fully in accordance with the traditions of Massachusetts. He is a banker and broker, and consequently in touch with the masters of finance. He is a graduate of the naval academy and consequently a man of ideas and presumably ideals. He has long been in politics and especially identified with the state organization of his party. But the same traditions that required a conservative of this sort in the senate also called for a republican governor and a republican majority in the state for president. Yet these traditions have been so far overthrown that the state looks today to the democratic party for progressive legislation, both in Massachusetts and in Washington.

What will be the effect of the election of Mr. Weeks? Unquestionably to strengthen the democratic party in the state, since, if the progressives find of their own state ticket, they will find their influence greater there than in the ranks of the conservative republicans. Unquestionably the new senator will serve his state with dignity and in accordance with those traditions so long attributed to "the party in power." Only it happens that the old fashioned republicans are no longer "the party in power."

The New York "Sun," commenting upon Col. Roosevelt's interview on Mr. Munsey, remarks that "it is a pleasure to meet and greet him again, to find him heartier in health, in better voice than Stentor and coarser than that three million Macedonians and all the freshmen in the world." Yes, the colonel's personality remains undimmed.

STATE VISITORS

The members of the state board of trade who are meeting in Lowell today as guests of the local board have had an opportunity to inspect the finest textile school in the country. They may recall the time, only a few years ago, when the whole state was discussing the question of the future of our Massachusetts cotton mills. The competition of the south had suddenly become so menacing that it was predicted that within a decade or two the northern factories would have been forced to seek new locations in the Carolinas, Alabama or Georgia. Two of our Lowell corporations, in order to have an anchor to windward, established large plants in southern states. Then came second sight, as it were. It was seen that the south could compete only on the corner grades of goods, and that it was the duty of Massachusetts to train skilled labor, and to raise the grade of her textile products. Textile schools were established, and the one at Lowell took the lead from the beginning. Old machinery was cast out of the mills to make way for new. Finer cloths gradually replaced the old staple lines.

Within the past fifteen years the mills of Lowell have been industrially reorganized. Millions of dollars have been expended upon new modern buildings and new machinery; finer products have been placed upon the market; the competition of the south is no longer even mentioned. It is well to recall these facts to the members of the state board of trade. They have come to a city that, in spite of the problems peculiar to all cities of rapid growth is, nevertheless, moving steadily forward, making yearly gains in population, in industries, and in the volume of business transacted by its merchants. They have come to a city that, within two decades, has become an educational centre to which students now come from all parts of the country; for in addition to the Lowell Textile school there is a State Normal school and an industrial school, both in wide favor. The city has a future that is well worth looking into when one is seeking a site for new industries.

PLAIN TALK

There can be no misunderstanding the meaning of Governor Wilson in his address to the New Jersey legislative electors. There is no equivocation in his statements, no bidding for popularity by throwing a sop to all parties, none of the talk of letting well enough alone for the benefit of Wall Street. The president-elect has set his face to the future with a complete understanding of the forces that are behind him. He believes that the country wants action on all of the important questions that are pending, and that this action must be progressive. He proposes to call upon only progressives to assist him.

Now it should be apparent that there is no patent upon this word progressive. It does not belong to the militant wing of the republican party alone. There has, in fact, been a progressive movement going on in recent years in both great parties, but whereas it has been a progressive movement, it has been a conservative one. The Chicago convention saw the progressive wing of the republican party, the democratic party did not. The Chicago convention saw the progressive wing of the republican party, the democratic party did not. The Chicago convention saw the progressive wing of the republican party, the democratic party did not.

It follows, then, that Mr. Wilson is representing his own party in announcing that he will stand for progressive legislation and that only. Such leadership will bring to the fore a younger generation of workers within his party, and assure faithful service to the country. The only hope of either the republican or the progressive party to defeat Mr. Wilson four years hence lies in his failure to comprehend the great duty placed upon him by the nation. The president-elect will fall into no such error and its frank to make this entirely clear at the beginning.

The suggestion that a hospital for contagious cases be built in Lowell to serve not only the city but the surrounding towns is worth considering. The private hospitals of the city receive many cases from these towns in the course of a year, and one devoted to diseases requiring isolation would meet a great need.

The New York "Sun," commenting upon Col. Roosevelt's interview on Mr. Munsey, remarks that "it is a pleasure to meet and greet him again, to find him heartier in health, in better voice than Stentor and coarser than that three million Macedonians and all the freshmen in the world." Yes, the colonel's personality remains undimmed.

PAINTED ON A FAN

Dear little lady, dressed in colors bright,
Always pleasant, always smiling, such a happy sight!
Fanny little lady, painted on a fan,
Little, twisted, bewitching lady of Japan!

My, how smooth her hair is rolled, very smooth and neat;
Peeping out beneath the skirt such tiny little feet;
Great wide sleeves, and parasol to shield you if they can—
Pretty, modest, shy little lady of Japan!

Cherry blossoms, pink and sweet,
Dancing in the air;
Just one tiny little spray captured in your hair,
Purple pale wistaria, climbing up and down

Through the graceful flowing folds of my lady's gown.
Wouldn't an inviting cup of amber, steaming tea,
Bring you tripping here to sup a little while with me?

Tranquil, queer, elusive little lady of Japan,
How I wish that you were not just painted on a fan!

Word Received Here That James Perdikis Lost His Life in an Attack at Janina

Word has been received in this city that James Perdikis, a member of the Greek legion from this city, was killed in the attack on the city of Janina made a few weeks ago by the allied armies against the Turks. It is understood that Perdikis had his head severed from his body by the splinter of a shell.

Several other members of the local regiment were also injured in the attack, one of these being George Tontaris, who after suffering an injury to his legs was taken to a hospital in Athens.

The following paragraph containing 87 words is made up with words all beginning with the letter "T" and as one can see is well arranged. It is entitled "Truly Tired."

Two tired, tired travelers took the track to Tammany Tavern. These tired-takers, though lost twenty times the terrible tortures through taking the tough tramp towards twilight, uttered to themselves, "To tempt tip-top travelers to timidify think they, the tempter, to tempt the travelers, to tempt the tramp, they toiled through their trials too torturing to tolerate. Time-tried travelers, thickly tumbling, tipped the thankful tapers to their tombs."

This tells today-takers two things: To tipple today temperately—to take truthful tales to themselves.

AT THE CLUB

Joe and Bill were seated in the great bay window of the reception room of the club, enjoying a quiet smoke and lazily watching the crowds that came forth from the matinees at the different theatres. For a time the hitherto quiet streets presented a holiday appearance as the number of those who had just witnessed performances at The Playhouse, Opera House, Kettles and the Merrimack Square were added to the ranks of those who were departing homeward after having spent the afternoon shopping or in pursuit of business duties.

Bill assumed a more comfortable position in the armchair which he occupied, puffed reflectively at his pipe for a few moments in silence and then with the air of a philosopher remarked: "I don't think that great crowd of people coming forth into the world of reality after a couple of hours in a fantastic world where real people affect characteristics of imaginary people and perform the acts which have been ascribed to them by a writer's ideas. It is quite a fall from that sphere of existence which we see portrayed upon the stage to the real world of ordinary human beings. Come on, awake that lazy old brain of yours and give it a little exercise. Did you ever take the trouble to think about what I have just said?"

Joe yawned magnificently, stretched and then drew his features, distorted by this evidence of weariness into a smile of toleration at his companion's musings. "Got another of your grand old man? Well, I've learned by experience that the only course to adopt in a case of this kind is to humor you, and I suppose I will have to do so. I don't know as I see exactly what you are driving at, except that it was a sort of life as shown on the stage of the divorce court. I can't say truthfully that I ever wasted any of my valuable brain tissue with such trifles but, offhand, I don't see that there is any more difference unless it be analogous to the difference between a picture and its subject."

"The play is a picture of life. Take, for instance, a book; it tells a story and your imagination, following the working of your intellect, frames its own picture. The play simply saves you the trouble of thinking and imagining and demands only the work of your senses, sight and hearing, and so forth."

"Oh, that's all right as far as it goes," replied Bill, concedingly. "But you don't get my point yet. Do you think that the characters which you see upon the stage are true to real life?"

Joe coughed and shifted his position.

ONE KILLED, SEVEN HURT

Explosion in Boiler Room of Dye Works

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 15.—One man was killed, seven injured, three probably fatally, and another man is missing as the result of an explosion of a steam economizer in the boiler room of the Gaylesville Dye Works, a branch of the Gaylesville Bleachery in Lincoln, yesterday afternoon.

The dead man is Augustus Blanchard, while Hassan Marvoti, fireman, of Central Falls, is missing.

ONE MAN HURT

Only one man out of 10 employed in the mill escaped injury. Robert Dunn of Pine Street, Central Falls, escaped without a scratch or burn, although he was in the centre of the boiler room and within 15 feet of the heater when the explosion took place.

The cause of the explosion is a mystery, as the boiler was recently inspected. The wreck of the building, which is about 150 feet square and 20 feet in height, was complete. The front was blown out and scattered about the yard and the roof was scattered all over the adjacent territory. A large portion of the end of the chemical laboratory nearest the boiler and engine house was tipped away.

Most of the men injured were buried beneath tons of iron and brick. Blanchard was pinned to the concrete floor by a roof girder and his back was broken. The report of the explosion was heard in Lonsdale and Pawtucket, while the houses in near-by sections shook as if an earthquake had occurred. Dishes rattled on the shelves, while in one place a clock was shaken from the mantel.

WOOLER EXONERATES HIS NEPHEW

Sinclair Says Starr is Innocent of Complicity in Alleged Kidnapping of Miss Steckel

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—Completely exonerating Walter Starr of any knowledge of complicity in the alleged "kidnapping" of Miss Anna T. Steckel, the Allentown heiress, Samuel Sinclair, Jr., yesterday issued his first statement since his arrest.

In the statement Sinclair denies that any harm was intended to Miss Steckel, and intimates that the affair was planned and carried out by him, because Miss Steckel is alleged to have said that she wished to be wooed by a man who had "the nerve to do something worthy of winning her."

Exonerates Starr
Sinclair says that Starr came to Allentown at his request and that he did not know anything of what Sinclair was contemplating. Starr thought, Sinclair said, that the entire matter was a prank decided on by Miss Steckel and Sinclair, and was for the purpose of having a final interview in the presence of a witness on the question of Sinclair's proposal of marriage to the heiress.

The statement was made public in the office of Joseph R. Rogers, counsel for Dr. R. Walter Starr, father of young Starr. The statement follows:

"On Friday, Jan. 10, 1913, at 7:30 p. m., I telephoned to R. Walter Starr, Jr., at 117 South 15th street, Philadelphia, to come to Allentown, Pa., on Saturday morning to visit me. I asked him if he could come up on the 9:40 trolley car. I did not tell him what I wanted to see him for. He arrived in Allentown about noon. I told him I would meet or phone to him at the hotel later in the day. At about 3 p. m. I phoned him and met him at the postoffice.

Explains Kidnapping
"I had the automobile which I had hired, with a chauffeur. I told him to get in and take a ride. I told the driver where to go. After we got to the young lady's house, I told the driver and R. Walter Starr, Jr., that the girl and myself understood that I was to come to her house and take her from her home for a ride in the country and back home again. My understanding as between the young lady, Miss Anna Steckel, and myself being that she wanted to be wooed by a man showing nerve, to do something worthy of winning her."

"R. Walter Starr, Jr., did not at any time lay hands upon Miss Steckel, nor did he know anything of the transaction, and I told him it was a prank agreed upon by the young lady and myself. She has been saying that a final understanding as to her answer to my proposal of marriage, she having written me that she would have a final talk before witnesses.

Absolutely Innocent

"For that reason I sent for my nephew, R. Walter Starr, Jr., to come to Allentown, Pa., that day. R. Walter Starr, Jr., is absolutely innocent of any wrong doing in this whole affair. There was no intent on my part or that of any person to injure or abduct the young lady, and what I did was because I believed from her letter 'we were to have a final talk of my proposal of marriage' in the presence of witnesses."

Miss Steckel was much improved yesterday. She chatted with friends over the telephone, but refuses to see any newspaper representatives.

The aged father of the heiress is still very bitter against Sinclair and Starr, and vows to prosecute them to the fullest extent of the law. He has said that an attempt will be made to have both young men accused of the kidnapping held without bail, so as to do away with any possible chance of their escaping the consequences of the alleged kidnapping.

OPEN DOOR BRINGS DEATH

Blew Flames and Ignited Woman's Dress

HOLYOKE, Jan. 15.—A brisk breeze and the sudden opening of a door caused the fatal burning of Mrs. Anna Doyle at the Dunbar apartments, on Pleasant street, yesterday.

Mrs. Doyle was burning old papers in the kitchen range yesterday morning when one of her three young children suddenly entered the room. The unexpected opening of the door, and the brisk gust that swept through, caught Mrs. Doyle by surprise.

Blazing fragments flattered into her face and against her breast and hair. The frightened woman frantically tried to brush the fire away with her bare skirts of her dress, were flaming. Screaming in terror and pain, she ran out on a rear balcony and fainted.

There neighbors found her, unconscious, every shred of clothing burned from her body.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS ANNUAL BALL IS ORDERED TO MEXICO

Brilliant Affair Was Held
in Associate Hall

Last Night

One of the most pleasing social events that Lowell has witnessed in some time graced Associate hall last evening when the members and friends of the Butler Ames Company, No. 16, gathered to participate in the seventh annual concert and ball of the organization.

The concert musical program prepared for the occasion contained many excellent numbers which were beautifully rendered by the well known Hubbard's orchestra. This concert was the opening feature of the evening's entertainment and started promptly at 8 o'clock. It was followed by a very well executed exhibition drill by the rank staff of Samuel H. Hines lodge No. 66, held under the direction of Drill Master Alvin E. Joy. The staff contained the following members:

Esra E. Mansur, C. H. Jordan, J. Farley, W. H. Gilman, Samuel Scott, W. H. Harvey, J. Walton, H. Bowen, W. Lingell, H. Beal, Joseph Kerr, R. Fullerton, B. Jordan, W. Blakely.

Dr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Lanson were the leaders of the grand march which began at 9 o'clock and this formed a beautiful feature of the evening. The men, most of whom were members of the company, attired in full military dress uniforms presented a pretty scene as they marched about the hall accompanied by their partners in evening gowns. The music of the grand march ended in waltz time and formed the opening number of the orchestra.

der of twenty dances and several extras. The wonderful adornment of the hall for the occasion was a source of great delight to all present. A large seal of the company was placed upon an attractive background on the stage and draperies of various colors were hung about the gallery and windows. At the front of the stage ferns palms and other potted plants were arranged so as to render the musicians almost completely hidden from the view of the dancers.

Marked success and pleasure attended the seventh annual ball of the Butler Ames Company last night. The officers in charge were as follows: General manager, Capt. Edwin F. Lanson; assistant general manager, Lieut. W. C. Goodwin; floor director, Lieut. Joseph F. Robarge; assistant, Sergt. Eugene L. Brierly; chief aid, Lieut. Col. H. S. Russell; aids, Sergt. L. O. Mason, Sergt. D. M. Haines, Maurice Perlman, W. J. Benoit, Sergt. Joseph Dunn, C. H. Holsington, Bennett Silverblatt, George W. Lee. Reception committee: Major Harry C. Bowen, chairman; Capt. Wotton, Lieut. C. H. Peters, Lieut. C. G. Baker, Sergt. A. F. Pecteau, William Henry, Alvan E. Joy, Frank W. Davis, Charles N. Clark, W. S. Lussier, Amos Best, Adelbert Jeffers.

THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE

Story of Recent Convention of Electors

A Lowell man, Attorney J. Joseph O'Connor, had the distinction of being a member of the democratic electoral college which convened at the state house in Boston last Saturday and Monday, and this morning he gave an interesting account of the gathering to a representative of The Sun.

The law demands that the electors meet on the Saturday preceding the second Monday in January after their election by popular vote. On last Saturday, the day mentioned, the 15 Massachusetts democratic electors met in the senate chamber of the state house in Boston and were sworn in by His Excellency Governor Foss. After the roll call, the first business of the members was the selection of a president, and Col. Gaston of Boston was elected to that office. Thomas E. Dwyer was chosen to fill the position of secretary of the convention. Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann of Boston acted as chaplain of the college. After the completion of the election of the officers above named the meeting was adjourned until Monday. Upon the invitation of President Gaston, the members lunched at the Exchange club as its guests.

The session was resumed on Monday afternoon, and after prayer by the chaplain, Dr. Mann, Hon. Charles A. Russell of Gloucester moved that the body proceed to the election of the president of the United States. The balloting was done by roll call. As each elector's name was called he arose and with the words, "I cast my vote for Hon. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey for president of the United States," dropped his vote in the box. It was then declared from the chair that the electoral college of Massachusetts had cast its ballots for Woodrow Wilson.

Upon the motion of Mr. J. Joseph O'Connor of Lowell, the members then proceeded to the election of vice president, and in the same manner as recorded above elected Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana to that office. The ballots themselves were rectangular in shape, and the words "For President of the United States Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey" and vice president ballots were similar with only the change in the name of the office and candidate. The members of the electoral college were given copies of these ballots as souvenirs of the occasion. Mr. O'Connor of Lowell was chosen as a member of the committee which sorted and counted the votes.

The election of a messenger to carry the report of the meeting to Washington was the next business, and Mr. Geo. M. Hallow, private secretary to Governor Foss, was chosen. He will depart upon the mission this week. The report is signed by all the electors and carried personally to Washington by the messenger. Another copy of the report is sent to the judge of the district court.

Following the convention, the members of the college according to custom, called upon His Excellency Governor Foss, who received them in the executive council chamber. The governor greeted the body and congratulated each one personally upon his work. He then declared the Massachusetts electoral college dissolved.

Each of the electors has received a copy of the records of the meeting and later will receive a leather bound report of the occasion. Mr. O'Connor said today that the meeting of the electoral college was a most interesting one throughout and, with its characteristic dignity, forms an impressive and solemn occasion. The 18 democratic electors which convened in Boston recently form the first democratic electoral college ever elected in Massachusetts.

WHIST, SOCIAL AND DANCE

To Be Held on Thursday Evening, Jan. 20 Under the Auspices of St. Margaret's Parish

The ladies and gentlemen of St. Margaret's parish held a largely attended meeting last evening to discuss plans and make final arrangements for the whist party, social and dance which is to take place in Highland hall on the evening of Thursday, Jan. 30. The splendid attendance at this gathering and the interest which all manifested in the success of the coming event augurs well for the success of the party.

Mr. William P. Hennessey was elected general manager of the affair, and Miss Margaret Bagshaw was chosen as his assistant. The floor marshal will be Mr. James Knowles with Miss Julia Driscoll as his assistant. Mrs. William M. Burns is chairman of the refreshment committee and the whist is in charge of Mrs. Minnie Laflamme. Rev. Henry C. Riordan was present at the meeting last night and assisted materially in arranging many of the details. Suitable prizes will be awarded the winners of the whist competition on this occasion.

Elks Met

Lowell lodge of Elks initiated eleven new members at its meeting last evening, one of them being Mayor O'Donnell, who between attendance on the Y. M. C. A. reception and the Knights of Pythias hall found time to ride the goat. At the business meeting all plans for tonight's annual ball in Associate hall were reported completely and the affair promises to be the biggest event in the annals of the organization.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Lowell Opera House

Raymond Hitchcock came to this city yesterday to be greeted last night by an audience which taxed the Opera House to its full capacity. He appeared in the musical comedy, "The Red Widow," which has enjoyed very remarkable success, wherever it has been presented.

The piece, unlike many of its kind, is held together by a sustaining plot which never once becomes totally lost in the maze of music and jest. It deals with the adventures of one Cleo Hamblin Butts, an American correspondent on his trip to Russia. He allows a woman to accompany him, getting into the country on his passport, and she later declares her love for him. He is a nihilist and that her mission is to kill the czar. The cast contains many amusing characters and the whole production is a great laugh producer.

Raymond Hitchcock, of course, stands forth prominently far above the others in the company and it is no other than himself who constitutes more than two-thirds of the merit of "The Red Widow." Mr. Hitchcock has a manner of acting that is all his own. He does not seem to depend upon the stage mechanically when his cue is spoken. On the contrary he just seems to wander out and elicit screams of laughter from the audience whenever it pleases him. Mr. Hitchcock's comedy does not lie in the words which were written for him by the authors, but in his expression, his every act is sure to be greeted with laughter by all who see him and is for this reason that he has always been such a great favorite with theatre goers. A great deal of his comedy is original and extemporaneous which adds greatly to its attractiveness. Many times the star has made the very members of his company laugh at his witless remarks so that they are forced to pause in their parts to regain their composure.

Mora Zulueta in the little role was exceptionally good and her duet with Mr. Theodore Martin who takes the part of Captain Romanoff of the Russian army and lover of the Red Widow is a feature of the performance. Mr. Martin has a remarkably good tenor voice and his rendering of the now well known "Love Me Dear" was enthusiastically applauded. As Oswald Butts, son of the corset maker, George Butts, who won a great deal of applause last night and his work is truly worthy of commendation. Minerva Cloverdale in the

Feel Bully? Take Cascarets Tonight

GENTLY CLEANSE YOUR LIVER AND SLUGGISH BOWELS WHILE YOU SLEEP

Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver, delayed evacuation of food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Salt, cathartic pills, oil and purgative waters force a passage way for a day or two—yes—but they don't take the poisons out and have no effect upon the liver or stomach. Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and cast out the poisons. They take the food and cast it out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your liver clear, stomach sweet and your head and bowels clean and regular for months.

The successful recognition of any theatrical or amusement enterprise in New York City is judged largely by the time it is permitted to occupy the principal theatres of the metropolis. This being true, the reproduction of Paul J. Rainey's famous East African hunt, which will be seen at the Opera House for one week, commencing Jan. 21st, now holds the record for an uninterrupted run of over one year and still playing at the Bijou theatre.

Keith's Theatre

Everybody is going to see Martinelli & Sylvester, the boys with the chairs, at the Keith theatre this week. They are without any exception the cleverest performers in their lines who have ever struck town, and for fully 15 minutes one will scream with pure delight at them. Then there are the Rosales, a man and a woman, who offer a refined light and slack wire act. Leitch DeLacy in "The Boss" has a little offering which will touch the heartstrings. Her support is all that could be desired. Arthur Rigby, the minstrel man, is just as funny as he ever was. Other things on the bill are: Johnson & Ventworth, singers; Holmes & Hollister in a sketch; Delaine, the juggler; and Mitchell & Lightner, comedians. Good seats for all performances. The box office telephone number is 23.

The Playhouse

A feature that will appeal strongly to the patrons of the Playhouse this week, and more especially to the women folk, is the wonderfully handsome gowns worn by the female members of the cast. The creations in which Miss Jackson and Miss Young appear are being talked of on all sides. The work of the entire company in "The Ironmaster," a play that is equal of the best seen at this theatre this season, is exceptionally good. Mr. Smythe, Miss Jackson and Miss Young are especially entertaining while Mr. Dillon, Mr. Bosworth and Mr. Sidney are also seen to advantage. Mr. Weston has again shown the master hand in staging his piece. Get your tickets either at the theatre or at the sub ticket office at Dows', telephone 510.

Merrimack Square Theatre

It needs but a glance at the week's bill being presented at the Merrimack Square theatre to see that it is a good one. It has variety as well as quality and will please the most fastidious. Heading the list is the sketch, "The Littlest Girl." This is presented by Messrs. Carleton & Horn and is one of the best of the kind ever given here. Then Knight Bros. & Sawtelle, two comedians and a pretty girl have a refreshing comedy which is topped off with Hamlin & Barrow, two clever comedians. The La Della, a pair of gymnasts, go through a series of difficult stunts and the whole is pleasantly intermingled with some good pictures.

A. F. FRENCH DWELLING DAMAGED

By Stubborn Fire Started There
This Morning—Another Fire
in Lavery's Bakery

The handsome residence of Albert F. French, paper box manufacturer, at 213 Parkview avenue, Oaklands, was visited by fire about seven o'clock this morning and but for the early discovery of the blaze and prompt response of the fire department the house would probably have been gutted. The firemen did excellent work and contained the blaze to the rear of the house but despite their efforts it is estimated that the loss by fire and smoke will amount to about $2000.

A large pine organ, considered one of the finest here organs in this section of New England, the estimated cost of which is about $10,000, escaped damage. Chief Rosmer is of the opinion that the fire was caused by defective wiring and Electrician Fernald of the fire department and Inspector Mahan of the street department will make an investigation.

The fire started around the ceiling of the kitchen and spread to the cupola which is over an enclosed piazza. The cupola was filled with sawdust which caught fire and the blaze worked its way through the partitions along under a stairway and into the attic. Shortly after seven o'clock one of the occupants of the house detected a strong odor of smoke but was unable to locate the fire. A telephone call was sent to the central fire station and Engine company No. 4 was sent to the scene but before they reached the house an alarm from box 241 was sounded. When the firemen arrived on the scene there was a lively blaze in progress but instead of laying lines of hose they fought the fire with three chemical lines which did effective work.

Another Fire at Lavery's
An alarm from box 39 at 11:20 o'clock last night summoned a portion of the fire department to a lively blaze in the bakery of Anthony Lavery & Sons at the corner of Broadway and Fletcher street, which was recently damaged by fire.

The fire started in the room where doughnuts are cooked and had made considerable headway before being discovered. After the recent fire galvanized iron was placed on the sheathing as a protection from fire but last night the heat from the kettle penetrated the iron and set fire to the sheathing. The flames made their way to the roof but their progress was checked before they broke through the roof.

Chief C. Church carried the insurance on the property.

WIFE CONTROLS HOME

Mother-in-law Can Have No Say

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—A mother-in-law "can have no say whatever regarding the management and control of the home" which she enjoys with her daughter-in-law and her son, who provide it.

So held Supreme Court Justice Crane in Brooklyn yesterday in denying Gardner L. Field a separation from Adelaide Field, who had quit his home after alleged interference by her mother-in-law. Mrs. Field had offered to return if her father-in-law was banished, but Field had not consented to this arrangement.

Gifts for Miss Gould
NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—It was learned today that two unusual gifts are on the way from St. Louis for the wedding of Helen Miller Gould and Finley J. Shepard at Tarrytown, next week. The railroad Young Men's Christian Association building at St. Louis has been done in a gold and bronze miniature and made into a clock. The other gift is a gold and bronze jewel case, a miniature reproduction of the Gould private car "Atlantic." It is the gift of 30 railroad Y. M. C. A. branches scattered over the Gould lines in the southwest.

The Testers won three points from the Ajax team in a game in the Heinze-Cartridge league series last night. Brown of the Testers put up a good game, having a total of 282.

The game between the First Swedish M. L. and St. Paul's teams of the Baraca league last night resulted in a victory for St. Paul's which won three of the four points. S. Bart was the only player to go over the 300 mark.

The Parcel Post team got a severe trouncing from the Agawams last night, the latter winning all four points.

In the Saco-Lowell league series the Shippers and Office teams divided honors, each team winning two points.

Two teams, each composed of seven members of the C. Y. M. L., met on the alleys last night in a close and interesting contest, the team captained by Hurlah defeating that captained by Enright. The scores:

FIVE MONTHS IN JAIL

For Man Who Cruelly Abused His Wife

Charles Carlson, of North Billerica, was sentenced to five months in the house of correction by Judge Enright in police court this morning for assault and battery on his wife. According to the testimony offered by Mrs. Carlson and her daughter, her husband has beaten her on several occasions and several years ago was sentenced for cruelly abusing her.

Mrs. Carlson testified that last Sunday night her husband followed her in to the yard and struck her and when she fell to the ground he kicked her. She said he had beaten her on many occasions and she would be much better off without him. Mrs. Carlson's little daughter also testified that her father had assaulted her mother.

Carlson admitted that he had assaulted his wife but said she had provoked him. Officer Martin Conway of Billerica when questioned said he had received several complaints about Carlson and that about four weeks ago the man said he would not strike his wife again.

The court after considering the evidence and learning that Mrs. Carlson could provide for herself, sentenced Carlson to five months in the house of correction.

Case Placed On File

The case of John Worthey, charged with the larceny of $225 in money, the property of Jonas S. Chalmerson, in 1908, was placed on the files of the court owing to the fact that the whereabouts of the complainant is unknown, it being understood that he is out of the state.

Going Back to Foxboro

Edward J. McCashin, who appeared in court yesterday but whose case was continued until today, was released by the court this morning on condition that he will go back to Foxboro, which place he left a short time ago.

Other Offenders
Fred Lamarche entered a plea of guilty to a complaint charging him with being drunk, but at the request of the government the case was continued until tomorrow morning.

Bernard McArdie, who was recently sentenced to four months in jail and appealed, withdrew his appeal this morning.

John J. Ducey, who made his 53d appearance in court, was ordered to pay a fine of $6. John Sullivan was also fined $6. There were four first offenders who were fined $2 each.

OUR ANNUAL

JANUARY SILK SALE

Will Commence Tomorrow, Thursday, Jan. 16th

Lowell's first complete showing of the new silks for spring 1913 will be found here Tomorrow and in simple fairness we must add that we have been fortunate in securing more big lots of good silks—here and abroad—than were shown even in last year's fine sale. No store here has ever approached the Gilbride store in its silk values—or in the assortments shown in these January sales.

This year we shall beat all previous records. Silk is costing more today than for 10 years. In view of this fact we have marked every piece of Silk in this sale at the lowest prices ever quoted. We guarantee a saving of from 25 to 33 per cent. We offer these new, up-to-date fashionable Silks in hundreds of weaves, colorings and designs. The lots include Foulards, from the best American makers. Imported Foulards, Chiffons, Evening Silks, Charmeuse Silks, Black Silks of every description, Chiffon Taffeta, Mes-salines and many other kinds of remarkable savings.

Convicted of Selling Opium
BOSTON, Jan. 15.—Chin Chung, a laundryman located at 102 Housatonic street, was convicted by a jury in the United States district court yesterday on a charge of selling opium for smoking purposes. Pending sentence he was allowed to go on $1000 bail.

CHURCH SOCIABLES
Various Events Held in the Vestries
Last Night—Men's League of Kirk St. Tonight

"The Six Kieptomaniacs," a two act farce, will be presented by the "Old Timers" on Thursday evening in the church vestry. It was the same club which was so successful in presenting the little play, "Our Church Fair," last season. This play is very snappy and is bound to be as successful as the latter was. Miss Ruth Dodge will sing between the acts.

First Congregational
"Home-Makers' Day" will be observed by the Mothers' association this afternoon in the vestry at 3 o'clock. Rev. E. H. Newcomb, the pastor, will speak on "The Pastor as a Family Friend." After the speaking there will be a reception for the new officers and tea will be served.

Kirk Street Congregational

Tonight the men of the Kirk Street church will meet to discuss the new Men's league, which they have decided to form. Not long ago over 30 men, in a Sunday morning meeting, decided to form the league or brotherhood, and this meeting is to hear the report of the committee which was appointed at that time. At 6:30 a supper will be served. The idea has attracted much interest among the men of the church, and a large attendance is expected.

Gorham Street Methodist

The Christmas cantata, "Star of the East," was sung by request at the Sunday evening service Jan. 12. Mr. Joseph Winant deserves great credit for his work as director. The soloists were: Misses Alice F. Scribble, Lena Howard, Martha Haworth and Mrs. Albert Whitworth, Mrs. W. G. Haynes, Messrs. N. W. Matthews, Jr., Bertrand Nield, Albert Whitworth and Ephraim Jeffrey.

First Presbyterian

The lecture on lepers by W. M. Danner, the secretary of the international and interdenominational organization that cares for them, was attended last night by a large audience, and was of great interest. The lecturer illustrated his speech with lantern slides, and he told the people who had assembled many astonishing things about these people who are isolated from the rest of the world. Mr. Danner has studied conditions in many countries, including Burma, Ceylon, China, India, Japan, Korea and Siam. There are over a million lepers in the world, and in the orient the outcasts are shunned by all. Among the Christians, however, much has been done in the way of systematic work to relieve them. There are already 52 settlements as a result of this work.

ON SALE TOMORROW, THURSDAY, A. M.CLOAK DEPT.*2ND FLOOR*WOMAN AVIATOR INVITED

To Give Demonstration by Suffragettes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—In order to demonstrate in spectacular manner the advancement of women, the managers of the suffragist parade here March 4 have invited Miss Bernotta Miller, a woman aviator, to swoop down in Pennsylvania avenue in her aeroplane on that day with a message for "Miss Columbia," the central figure in the tableaux which will be set on the steps of the treasury department. An answer to the invitation is expected to-day.

ARE OUT OF HARMONY

Doctor White Talks on Insanity

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—By declaring that a vast number of the so-called insane were not victims of diseased minds, but that they were only "out of harmony" with the accepted standards of society, Dr. William A. White, superintendent of the government hospital for the insane, started a lively discussion among noted alienists today. Dr. White told the alliance of Jewish women last night that insanity was on the increase but that it could not be regarded as a disease.

WOMAN AVIATOR INVITED

To Give Demonstration by Suffragettes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—After an all night search in the ruins of the Glenison dye works boiler room, another body was recovered today, increasing the number of fatalities as the result of yesterday's explosion to two. The body found today was that of Hassan Mammet, a fireman. Of the four injured men in the hospital, one, an unidentified Italian, was said today to be suffering from internal injuries and was not expected to recover.

WOMAN AVIATOR INVITED

To Give Demonstration by Suffragettes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The Metropolitan golf championship, which usually attracts several of the high ranked players of the country, has been postponed for the time being. It was tentatively set for May 17 to 24 last, but a discussion among noted alienists today, gave, probably at Englewood, although Dr. White told the alliance of Jewish women last night that insanity was on the increase but that it could not be regarded as a disease.

FOR ARCHBALD LETTERS

Witness Testified His Share Was $15,000

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—William Winkfield, the former Standard Oil messenger who has told Commissioner Williams, investigating campaign funds, of his participation in the sale of the Archbald letters made material alterations in his testimony when he reappeared today before the committee. Winkfield told the senators he had "dinge fright and a bad headache" yesterday, but he later remembered that at one time two letter copy books and three parcels of letters were taken by himself and Stump, another messenger, and for his share he got $15,000, which he believed to be one third of the price paid. He said he understood they were sold to the New York American. Winkfield told of being called into Archbald's office and testified about stealing the letters. The witness said that Mr. Archbald told him Stump could prove he had taken them. Winkfield said he denied he took the letters. "This is the first time I ever acknowledged my part in the matter," said Winkfield. "I never admitted it to Gilchrist, Stewart or to Colliers. I never told Mr. Archbald about it." The witness said that Mr. Archbald discharged him because he knew something about the letters being taken. Under cross examination by Senator Brewster, the witness said that the letters were in Mr. Archbald's desk and that he and Stump got them by using a key they found. Winkfield testified that he and Stump and a man named Zimmer would take the batch of letters out to sell them. "Stump and I would remain outside while Zimmer went in to get the money," declared Winkfield.

END LIVER TROUBLE WITHOUT CALOMEL

Untrustworthy Drug, Thought to Loosen the Teeth, Now Made Absolutely Unnecessary

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are the mildest but surest laxative known, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. Dr. Edwards has been calomel's uncompromising foe. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-oil colored tablets, a rare combination of vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil. These pleasant, harmless little tablets do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel at all, but to let Olive Tablets take their place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" the clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits.

At 10c and 25c a box. "Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

ENJOYABLE WHIST PARTY

By the Ladies of the Highland Club

One of the most enjoyable whist parties ever held in Lowell was given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Highland club yesterday afternoon. It was held in the ball room of the clubhouse, in which the decorations for the Winter Garden party of a few weeks ago were still displayed. These decorations and the beautiful gowns of the women lent a brilliance to the affair such as is seldom seen in this city. More than 50 tables were in use during the afternoon, and nearly 200 of the ladies of the Highlands and other sections of the city were present. Both straight whist and bridge whist were played, and two-thirds of the tables were for the latter. In bridge the prizes were awarded as follows: First, a mahogany tray, Mrs. J. H. Donnelly; second, one-half dozen cut glass lemonade tumblers, Mrs. Lane; third, fancy dish, Mrs. Charles Shepherd. In straight whist the prizes were as follows: First, brass clock, Mrs. Stockpole; second, silver deposit vase, Mrs. Cyrus Barton.

Great interest was shown in the event, which is the first of a series of three to be held at different times during the winter. It was entirely successful and the committee is to be congratulated on the excellent arrangements. The next meeting is to be held on February 4.

The committee in charge consisted of: Mrs. Fred H. Woodworth, chairman; Mrs. W. H. Emmett, Mrs. Geo. Hawley, Mrs. A. J. Dion, Mrs. Peter Conaton, Mrs. F. W. Farnham, Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Mrs. F. W. Sherman, Mrs. Cyrus Barton, Mrs. Frank Jewett, Mrs. A. G. McCurdy, Mrs. Charles Leathers, Mrs. J. S. Hanson, Mrs. Frank Kenney, Mrs. A. P. Knapp, Mrs. Frank M. Smith. There were visitors present from Boston, Winchester and other places.

During the afternoon a cake and candy sale was held, and the table was presided over by Mrs. W. H. Wilson and several able assistants.

FOURTH TO BECOME A NUN

Dwight Sisters Withdraw From World

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—Miss Helen Dwight, the fourth daughter of the late Prof. Thomas Dwight of the Harvard Medical school to enter a convent, has just taken her novitiate vows in the Carmelite convent in Florence street, Roxbury.

The Dwight home is at 235 Beacon street, and three of Miss Dwight's sisters, Mary, Kathryn and Florence, have withdrawn from the world into convents.

At the present time only one daughter, Margaret, and the son, Joseph, now live with the mother, who was Sarah C. Lasigi. A few years ago, Joseph, who was then a student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, astonished his friends by foregoing the luxuries to which he was accustomed and taking residence in the Trappist monastery in Cumberland, R. I. He remained there for more than a year but later returned to be with his mother.

IS WELL WORTH SEEING

Fine Exhibition at the People's Club.

A very interesting exhibition of dressmaking, millinery and fancy work done by the young women in the sewing classes of the People's club, is being held at the rooms in the Runnels building. The exhibition will continue this afternoon and evening, and it is well worth while going to see. For those who are interested in the practical side of sewing, there are many well made dresses, suits, shirtwaists and underclothes that no doubt offer one solution to the problem of the high cost of living. The hats shown by the millinery department are to be commended for their inexpensiveness, for they are all made of lightweight flannel in pastel colors, with trimmings of crepe, in the same light shades. In the fancy work exhibit there are many beautiful articles that testify to the skill and taste of the makers. For 40,000 STRIKING GARMENT WORKERS PARADE IN NEW YORK AND THEN HOLD MASS MEETING IN UNION SQ.

STRIKERS MEETING OUTDOORS

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Between 35,000 and 40,000 striking garment workers made a show of strength under the eyes of their employers by a great parade through the manufacturing district, which ended in a mass meeting that overflowed Union square. Though some of the speeches delivered by orators in three languages sizzled with condemnation of the clothing manufacturers and the conditions which the garment workers are protesting against, there was no violence during the whole course of the parade and ensuing mass meeting, and by order of the union heads red flags were barred. Benjamin Schweitzer and Max Pine, leaders of the strike, made speeches.

HEARING ON POLE LOCATIONS

Held at City Hall Before Commissioners Cummings and Donnelly Yesterday

An informal hearing on pole locations was held at city hall yesterday afternoon. The hearing was scheduled for 2 o'clock, but inasmuch as three members of the council were absent, the other two, Messrs. Cummings and Donnelly did not convene until 3 o'clock. Commissioner Cummings presided, and at the opening announced that the hearing would be an informal one, as three members of the council could not attend, but however it would serve the purpose. The first petition to be taken up was that of the New England Tel. & Tel. Co. for the re-location of two poles at 18 and 32 Troy street. Relative to this petition the presiding officer read a communication from James P. Hunsay, who opposes the said re-location on the ground that it will destroy valuable trees. Mr. Benjamin Mahoney of the New England Tel. and Tel. Co. said he believes the matter can be adjusted with Mr. Ramsay and another nearby resident, Horace S. Bacon, whose name is also mentioned in the communication as being a respondent. The petition was referred to the commissioners of streets and highways and public property and licenses. Another petition was presented by the same company for permission to lay an underground conduit under the surface of Prescott street. Again Mr. Mahoney was heard on this petition, and he said the desired conduit would be for the Postal Telegraph Co. which will occupy an office in the new building, and which desired to lay its cable in the New England Tel. & Tel. Co.'s conduit. Mr. Mahoney said this would mean the ripping up of Prescott street. Commissioner Cummings asked if the said conduit could not be laid under the sidewalk, to which Mr. Mahoney replied that that part was being used as a cellar for the Sun building. There was no remonstrance and the petition was referred to the proper commissioners. The last petition to be presented was one by the Lowell Electric Light Corp., which asked for a permit to erect poles on Cumberland road between Fisher street and Alken avenue. The matter was referred to the same commissioners. In closing the hearing Commissioner Cummings announced that the regular meeting of the municipal council will be held in the mayor's reception room Friday morning, because the civil service commission is to use the aldermanic chamber for examinations on that morning.

Origin of Room Names

Parlor is a word closely connected with the word parliament—from the French "parler," to speak, a derivation sufficiently denoting the usage of the parlor. The members of the family led to less formal parlors, where the members of the household could meet and feel at home, and naturally the decorations in these lesser parlors were less impressive than those in the state reception rooms, but lighter and more homelike. When the feeling of home was rising with the wane of feudalism and the greater sense of security, and in all the associations of home life the influence of the feminine element became more and more prominent. New times, new wants, the lady's power, divided from its utilitarian use of bedroom, becomes boudoir. This is her own room, too sacred for visitors, save of the most congenial. The parlor has rather much of a manly element in it for her visitors alone, and so a new room has to be invented. The custom of the ladies withdrawing after dinner, while the men sit over their wine, supplied the name (it was originally withdrawing room). Royalty gave a great impetus to the use of the name as opposed to "parlor" by the institution of drawing rooms. A mere man's definition of a parlor in contradistinction to a drawing room is a room where one may turn blind over in one's mind without overturning bric-a-brac and spindle legged tables.

License Commission

The regular meeting of the license commission was held last night and took action on several applications for licenses. Common viewaller's licenses were granted to Theodore Vioras of 143 Merrimack street and to John H. Fardoul of 826 Merrimack street. Renewals of auctioneer's licenses were granted to Elie C. Laporte, of room 202, Hildreth building, and to Albert P. Davis of 16 H. street. A license to conduct and maintain another pool or billiard table was granted to James E. Sullivan of 21 Adams street. The application of James Petros, of 27 Adams street, for a billiard and pool license was denied and he was granted leave to withdraw his application.

JESS WILLARD SAYS HE'D LIKE THIS WALLOP

ON CHAMPION LUTHER McCARTY'S ANATOMY

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Jess Willard, in sore. The Kansas heavyweight declares Luther McCarty, who calls himself a new white heavyweight champion, is not entitled to the honors. He also declares that Mac must be suffering from a lapse of memory. "Why," said Jess recently, "I beat that fellow McCarthy in a frazzle without half trying in a ten round bout in New York a short time ago. And now look! He tries Al Palmer, who never really beat a good man, then places himself on a pedestal and says: 'I'm the real thing in the pugilistic line. Come see me if you have the cash.' Can you beat that for nerve?" Willard says he would like nothing better than a chance to demonstrate that he is a better man with the mallet than McCarty. Willard is the tallest of all heavyweights. He is 6 feet 6 inches in height and weighs 253 pounds. He is clever and possesses a good wallop. His most recent battle was with Eddie Keane, whom he knocked out in eight rounds.

ZBYSCO AFTER GOTCH

Pole Still Begging for a Match

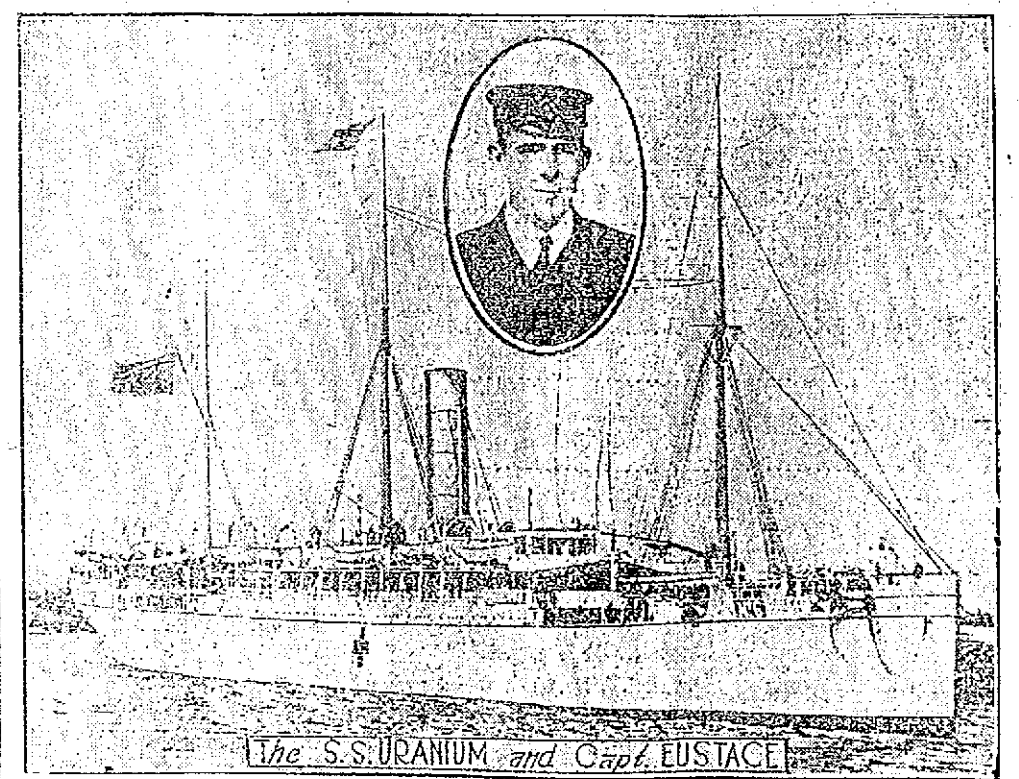

Zbyesco, the European wrestling champion, is once more with us. He came here from his native land, Poland, with the expressed intention of coaxing Frank Gotch, the world's champion, into another match for the title. Zbyesco chased Gotch all over the country last year in an endeavor to force the champion into combat. His quest was fruitless, and he took the steamer home after appearing in all the large cities. It was during the latter part of Zbyesco's stay that he was going to retire and spend his days on his farm. That was the principal impetus that sent the for-latter home sooner than intended. A few weeks after Zbyesco left these shores Gotch came out from his retirement and wrestled a few unknowns.

CAPTAIN AND CREW STICK TO STEAMSHIP ON ROCKS AFTER 883 PASSENGERS HAD BEEN SAFELY MOVED

The S.S. URANIUM and Capt. EUSTACE

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 15.—Several hundred of the passengers rescued from the steamship Uranium, which is stranded on the rock promontory a few miles from the entrance to Halifax harbor, have been sent to New York by train. Eight hundred and eighty-three passengers were taken off the stranded steamship by vessels sent out from Halifax. Captain Robert Eustace and his crew remained aboard the stranded vessel, with tugs standing by to take them off if a change in the tide went out, however, the stern sank, leaving the bow towering above. Great praise was showered upon the officers and crew of the Uranium for the way in which they handled the difficult situation on board the vessel. The fact that every passenger was taken safely from the stranded ship and landed at Halifax within a few hours after she struck was regarded as a marvel of efficiency on the part of the steamship's crew and the rescuing craft.

VERY COSTLY TRIP TO CANADA

Hormisdas Arvaisals of This City
Relieved of $340 on Train of Great Northern Railroad

Mr. Hormisdas Arvaisals of 34 John street, has returned from a pleasant trip to Canada, but which was very expensive to him, for on his way home he was relieved of about $340, the theft having been committed on a train between St. Paul and Montreal, Que. The Canadian police were notified of the loss, but as yet the culprit has not been apprehended.

Mr. Arvaisals left here on Jan. 4 for his annual trip to Canada. The trip was a very enjoyable one and while in St. Paul the Lowellite had a splendid time. Before returning, however, he dropped into a tobacco store owned by Mr. Pierre Grandchamps, brother of Napoleon C. Grandchamps of this city, and purchased a quantity of his favorite weed. There was a traveling salesman in the store at the time but Mr. Arvaisals paid little attention to him.

Later Mr. Arvaisals directed his footsteps toward the railroad station and boarded a train for Montreal on the Great Northern railroad, and the salesman followed and "teased" himself in a seat in the rear of Mr. Arvaisals. The latter had a roll of bills in his pants pocket to the amount of $340, but as he thought the money was safe he soon went to sleep. When he awoke a few minutes later he saw the salesman alight from the coach at Joliet, Que. When he reached Montreal he went to the Windsor station to purchase a ticket for Lowell and it was there he found that his wallet was gone. He immediately called at police station No. 5 and reported the loss, giving a description of the salesman, but as yet the culprit is still at large.

Fortunately Mr. Arvaisals had $15 in gold in an anorak pocket and he would have been stranded in the Canadian metropolis. He returned to this city and immediately wrote to Mr. Grandchamps in St. Paul to know if possible the name of the traveling salesman and the firm he works for, for he is of the opinion that he really is the man who got away with his money. However, Mr. Arvaisals says he will never forget his 1913 annual trip to Canada.

LOOKING UP BIRTH RATE IN CITY

Several Young Men With the Aid of Interpreters Doing
the Work

Mayor James E. O'Donnell has received a letter from Mayor P. O. Hardy of Pittsburgh asking for information relative to the workings of the street department of this city, and the former's reply was a long letter explaining how everything is in the hands of a commissioner, and a copy of the city charter was also enclosed in the letter. The following young men are now busy looking up the birth rate of the city, as is done annually: Ward 1, James Bean, 12 Gold street; ward 2, Richard O'Brien, 54 Adams street; ward 3, Martin E. McCarthy, 20 Phillips street; ward 4, William F. Boyle, Hill street; ward 5, William F. Boyle, Hill street; ward 6, William F. Boyle, Hill street; ward 7, Thomas Hasset, 451 Adams street; ward 8, Thomas F. Kelly, Cambridge street and ward 9, Frank P. White, 36 Congress street. Anthony Popowicz is serving as Polish interpreter in wards 4, 5, and 6 and in fact every where he is needed. City Clerk Flynn has also made arrangements for a Greek interpreter.

Commissioner Donnelly is out to make a clean record, while serving as the head of the street department. Sometime this week two men called on Mr. Donnelly and asked to be put to work. When they were asked where they had been working of late, the reply was for some large corporation in this city. They were then told that the street department was not a refuge for a last resort for people out of work and inasmuch as there was not much work in the department their services were not needed. They were also apprised of the fact that old employees will be given the preference, and also that the superintendent of streets was doing all the hiring to be done in the department.

City Auditor Paige is confined to his home with a severe attack of neuritis and his absence from city hall is greatly felt by his many friends.

The following marriage intentions were registered at the city clerk's office since the last were published: Leo Vignani, 150 Ford street, 22, steam fitter; Blanche Champagne, 614 Moody, 20, weaver.

Karol Baran, 41 Amory, 24, operative; Katarzyna Yaron, 41 Amory, 24, operative.

Horace F. Pease, Adams court, 63, hostler; Milla A. Manning, Adams court, 63, at home.

Frank Olechowski, 39 Summer, 27, operative; Stanislaw Benskowicz, 35 Summer street, 15, operative.

STATE BOARD OF TRADE MEETING HELD AT THE TEXTILE SCHOOL THIS AFTERNOON WITH OVER 250 PRESENT

GEORGE M. HARRIGAN,
President Lowell Board of Trade.HON. JAMES E. O'DONNELL,
Mayor.CHARLES H. EAMES,
Principal Lowell Textile School.

The January meeting of the Massachusetts state board of trade was held in the Lowell Textile school this afternoon. It was the second monthly meeting of the state board to be held outside of Boston, the first being the meeting held in Springfield in December.

It was at the November meeting, in Boston that the Springfield board of trade made a bid for the December meeting and when the state board agreed to meet in the city of homes, President Harrigan and Secretary Murphy of the Lowell board of trade made a bid for the January meeting which was held here today.

The Lowell board of trade has the happy faculty of knowing how to do things and today's affair was no exception. Everything went along like clock work.

The state board of trade arrived in this city shortly before noon and was taken charge of by the officials of the local board of trade and conveyed in special cars to the Textile school.

Chairman Harrigan, Mayor O'Donnell and Secretary John H. Murphy of the local board of trade, and other members received the visitors.

At the Textile school they were shown through the building and greeted by Principal Eames and other officials.

The Massachusetts state board of trade is made up of 57 constituent bodies and each body is entitled to three delegates. The delegates of the local board of trade had sent a full delegation as there were more than 100 visiting delegates present.

It was one of the largest monthly meetings in the history of the state board. The attendance including visitors and members of the local board numbered more than 250. The attendance of local members was much larger than advance notices would indicate. Secretary Murphy asked that members intending to attend the meeting advise him to that effect, but only about one-third of those who put in an appearance at the Textile school notified the secretary of their intentions and if the lunch peters out before they were served it was their own fault.

At 1 o'clock they sat down to dinner at the main hall and at the close of the repast President Harrigan danced to order and extended a cordial greeting.

The banquet was served in Southwick hall and President Harrigan presided. The banquet hall presented a lively scene and because of the fact that the banquet was held in a hall where many visitors are vouchered for, and the large attendance of local members and their friends, there were a few who failed of seats at the first table.

The banquet was not served until 1 o'clock and immediately after the meeting of the executive committee of the state board. The monthly meetings of the executive committee are not as a rule, very important and today's meeting was not out of the ordinary. State Secretary Richard L. Gay gave out after the meeting that only routine business, reading of reports, etc., had been attended to.

After Dinner Speeches
It was after 2 o'clock when President Harrigan of the local board called to order and he immediately called the meeting of the executive committee of the state board. Mr. George H. Corcoran, the first speaker introduced was Mayor James E. O'Donnell. The mayor spoke in part as follows:

Mayor O'Donnell—Gentlemen—On behalf of the city of Lowell I bid you welcome to the City of Spindles and opportunities. It seems eminently fitting that the state's most important business organization, the Lowell Textile school, which as you probably are aware is the largest institution of its kind in the United States, the great school of manufacturing in which the future textile manufacturer acquires a helpful theoretical knowledge before entering upon the practical part of his life's work, and in which the practical mill worker, the operative, is given an equal opportunity to improve upon his knowledge born of experience by a theoretical education.

While the city of Lowell is essentially a cotton mill city, through the energetic work of our local board of trade we have recently acquired a quite remarkable diversity of industries, and the future looks bright for a greater variety.

Word has just been received that congress has just set aside $10,000 for the improvement of the Merrimack river. While that amount does not seem large, it is surely the beginning of a great work, the fulfillment of which will mean a navigable river from Lowell to the sea.

With this important aid to commerce and trade, Lowell will move on to the forefront of the cities of the United States. We have the natural advantages and we have the brains and the energy. We are no new acquaintance of the outside world, for our products reach its most remote points. We show the civilized world and dress the semi-civilized. In peace or war our products are heard from and it is our intention to keep upon the world's business firing line—and never to retreat.

Gentlemen, I hope that your visit to our city will be both pleasant and profitable.

Mon. Robert Luce
The principal speaker of the afternoon was Hon. Robert Luce of Somerville. He dealt with the business outlook, which he spoke was not very encouraging, and spoke extemporaneously.

It was State President Corcoran who introduced Hon. Robert Luce, giving him a very flattering introduction and said that while out of public life, so to speak, at the present time, Mr. Luce would be wanted again by the people and that he is a man of whom Massachusetts may well feel proud. The state president thanked the Lowell board for its hospitality and said it was a great pleasure to visit Lowell, one of the pioneer cities of the great textile industry. He spoke of the mills and referred to them as memorials to Boot, Jackson and a host of others. He said that peace hath her victories as well as war and the big mills of the city are monuments of peaceful industry.

Mayor O'Donnell had spoken of the $10,000 appropriated by congress for the development of the Merrimack river and Mr. Corcoran said he was glad to hear that such an appropriation had been made. The state of Massachusetts, he said, should make an appropriation for the same purpose. The speaker said there had been too much criticism of our railroads and railroad management. "Let us stop our constant criticism of the railroads. They have done their best," he said. He quoted James J. Hill as saying that the railroads had about reached their limit and that the cost of terminals was almost prohibitive.

Former Lieut. Gov. Luce congratulated the state board on its departure from the old-time custom of holding its meetings in Boston. He said he thought it was a grand idea for the board to hold its monthly meetings away from Boston, and he thought it was a pity the idea had not been thought of sooner. He said that the state board was particularly fortunate in coming to Lowell and to have the privilege of inspecting that splendid institution, the Lowell Textile school. He said it would give the members an idea of the great work the state is accomplishing through such institutions.

Speaking of the business outlook, Mr. Luce said he didn't want to have his remarks so construed as to make him appear pessimistic, for he said he was nothing if not optimistic. He ventured to remark, however, that the outlook for the ordinary business man was not as bright as it might be. Speaking of the present spirit of unrest, he said there have been periods of unrest all through recorded history and he said that the basic trouble of today and the danger that confronts us is all a question of money. "It is due," he said, "to the depreciation in the value of gold, the great lessening that has taken place in its purchasing power. The purchasing power of gold has been steadily decreasing year after year and according to Bradstreet's most recent figures, the purchasing power of gold at the present time is lower than at any time since the beginning of the keeping of records by that agency. The purchasing power of gold is not half as much as it was 15 years ago. The great change came about so suddenly that society has not been able to adjust itself to the sudden turn of affairs. Without meaning it, we have reduced the pay of the clergyman, professor, physician, lawyer and others. The result is, that the cities are university cities because it is the educated people who have suffered most. The wage earners have been able, in a certain measure, to adjust themselves to conditions and the harshness of the situation has been felt most by educated people.

The secret of the labor troubles during the last few years is due to the fact that wages could not keep pace with the depreciation in gold since 1908."

CAR LINE THROUGH AIKEN STREET

Residents of West Centralville
Will Again Present Petition
To That Effect

The number of houses in West Centralville is rapidly increasing, and one who has not seen that part of the city for 15 years, would be astonished to see the great development that has taken place in that district. The Middlesex estate which a few years ago was nothing but a large strip of vacant land, is now nearly all occupied with fine modern dwelling houses.

Another tract of land which has been built upon recently is that formerly owned by the Merrick Mfg. Co. in West Sixth street, on which some thirty-five cottages and two apartment houses were erected by Jacques Hovsey. Farmland road is also getting its share of tenement houses, and soon Mr. Callisto Lequin is to start the construction of a two-apartment house in that direction, having yesterday purchased a large piece of land.

There are all the accommodations wanted in the district with the exception of electric car service across the Aiken street bridge, and a movement is now on foot to petition the Bay State Street Railway company for such service. A couple of years ago a petition of that sort was presented to the said company and after considerable work, those in charge of the movement succeeded in having a car line established on Lilley avenue and Middlesex street as far as Hovey square, but the question of going across the bridge was dropped with the understanding that the company would take care of that proposition the following year, but the residents of that part of the city are still waiting for such service. The cars to Hovey square run every half hour by way of Lakeview avenue, but if the line was put through Aiken street it would mean a lot for those employed in the Lawrence hotel, Tremont and Suffolk mills as well as the Merrimack mill and Lowell Machine shop, and in fact in all the stores in upper Merrimack street, and the company would greatly benefit by it.

Another petition will soon be circulated among the residents of West Centralville and it is hoped by them that their efforts this time will not be fruitless, and that the street car company will grant the request.

is Suffering From "Shaking Palsy"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Although suffering from "shaking palsy" and unable to speak above a whisper, William Rockefeller would be able to undergo a brief examination before the money trust committee in his testimony in the "paramount importance." So Dr. C. W. Richardson told the committee today. He said to submit the oil magnate to a prolonged questioning might cause a hemorrhage or a swelling of the brain which would stop his breathing. While Dr. Richardson and Albert C. Burrage, who was concerned in the reorganization of the amalgamated Copper Co., testified, a list of financial leaders waited to be called. They were President Hines of the National City bank of New York, George Perkins, Thomas W. Lamont, H. P. Davidson and Geo. F. Baker, Jr., the latter a son of the late John D. Rockefeller. The committee will take up the question of whether Mr. Rockefeller is to be examined at an executive meeting into today.

RUSHED INTO FLAMES

A Providence Woman
Rescued Sick Baby

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 15.—Rushing through the flames in the kitchen of her tenement yesterday, Mrs. August Bloomquist rescued her 4-year-old child, who is sick with pneumonia. The family lives in the house 85 and 87 Foster avenue. When the fire was discovered by Mrs. Bloomquist flames were breaking through the walls and the house was filling with smoke. She rushed into the room and, picking up the boy, wrapped him in clothing around him and hurried through the flames and smoke to the staircase. She swooned when she reached the street floor.

The Bloomquist house was gutted and the floor below was badly damaged by water.

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING OPENED

the ages, the demand of the time has been for strong men.

"From the days when men made their homes in the caves of the earth and struggled for their possessions with the fierce cave bear, down to the present day, strong men have been the demand of the age. During the palmy days of Sparta, the state sought to secure strong men to fight their battles by having all the babies that were born, examined by councils of the older men, and all who were not physically perfect were thrown into the cave-in active membership in the immediate future.

As I remarked a moment ago, Lowell is a cosmopolitan city, I might remark parenthetically, that, today, almost within hearing of my voice nearly 10,000 residents and citizens of the future are observing the opening of the New Year under the Greek calendar, yet this enthusiasm for the association and its new building knows neither class, creed nor nationality; for "everybody's doing it"—working for the success of the Y. M. C. A.

As mayor of Lowell, I offer you the deep respect and esteem and the sincere best wishes of the entire community.

Secretary Hearne

The presiding officer then called association, which now numbers over 2000 centers on this continent, and has nearly 9000 local associations throughout the world. The American associations number over half a million members and own association and club houses to the value of approximately $60,000,000.

"I think the association has done well to extend the scope of its activities into the educational and industrial field. In connection with our American colleges it has done, and is doing splendid service. It has spread into the small towns and its membership is growing in this field. Its libraries are among the most extensive and important collections of books that we have. It has become a great power throughout the United States; a power and the hopes which animate our day and generation.

"This building, which I have both pleasure and honor in declaring open, starts on its mission under most favorable auspices.

"It represents the local branch of that great movement of three years ago, in which $2,000,000 was raised by popular subscription for Y. M. C. A. buildings in Boston, Lowell, Lawrence and other centers. The interest which was aroused in this movement and the splendid public response which was made to it, mark it as one of the most notable humanitarian movements of recent times.

"I feel confident that an enterprise which has come into existence under such conditions of tremendous public approval and endorsement must continue, not merely as a tribute to the generosity of the community, but as a living force in the future life of Lowell and the commonwealth.

"I join with you in congratulating Mr. Fred A. Flather, chairman, and Mr. John Jacob Rogers, secretary, of the movement which resulted in this building and in congratulating no less the able management and leadership under which this building will continue its field of usefulness."

Hon. Frederick Fosdick

The last speaker of the evening, but not the least, was Hon. Frederick Fosdick, former mayor of Hingham, and member of the state committee of the Y. M. C. A., who struck the witty note. He first made an appeal for a universal petition to the governor for the men behind the bars, at the same time pointing to several persons who were standing behind a large screen on the running track of the gymnasium.

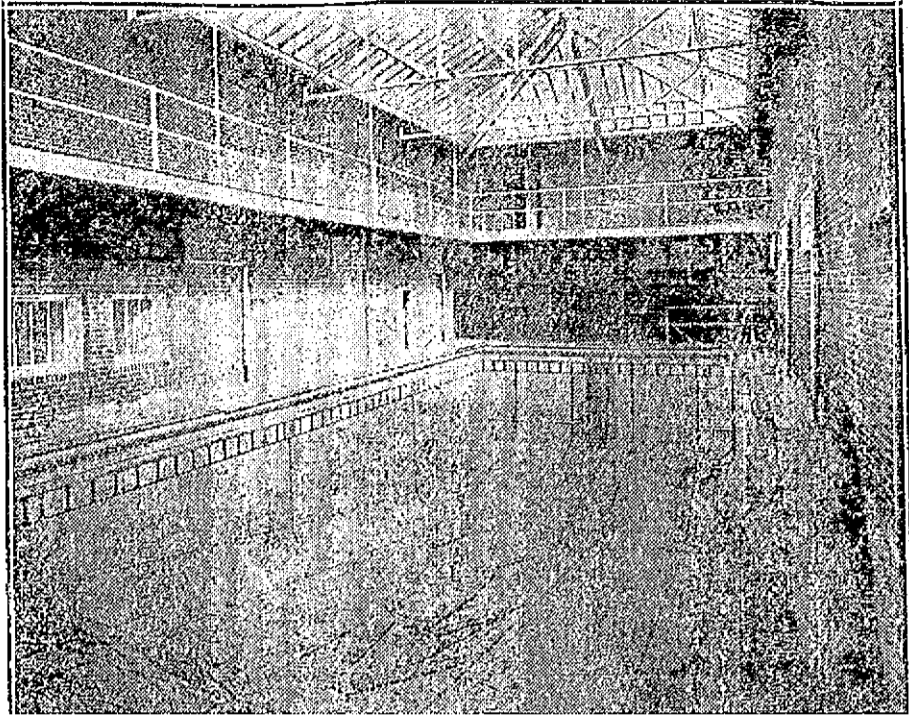

The speaker kept his listeners in a roar of laughter for fully 30 minutes, and while his remarks were witty they were also very interesting. He spoke of the work of the association and gave advice to the Lowell members, telling them not to abandon their task now that the building is erected, but to continue their arduous work. He closed by saying, "If you don't contribute to this great building and its maintenance, you will be unfair to your city and to yourself."

In the course of the evening Prof. Albert Edmund Brown, who was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Brown, rendered several vocal selections. He was booked for two numbers, but his listeners would not rest until he had doubled that number. His singing, which was magnificent, greatly pleased the large audience.

The committee on reception included the following: F. A. Bowen, president; S. H. Thompson, vice president; W. H. G. Wight, clerk; W. H. Hoyt, treasurer; D. E. Tarnell, M. D., secretary; M. D. Clay, C. F. Flemings, Robert Friend, C. F. Grover, E. W. Hall, C. E. Meader, C. Midgley, E. G. Morrison, C. H. Nelson, C. H. Redway, J. J. Rogers, W. T. Sheppard, board of directors; Lester Flemings, Craven Mingley, Richard Gumb, John W. Daly, John M. Williams, A. G. Choney, H. E. Davis, Harry Pilkington, H. A. Sweat, H. M. Southworth.

erms as not being worth raising, there to become the prey of wild beasts. They were seeking after physical perfection, and succeeded in developing a race of men and women that have stood for ages as examples of bodily strength and vigor.

"The strong men called for at the present time, are not only men of strong bodily vigor, but men who are strong morally and spiritually, and it is to help make the men of today measure up to these requirements that this building was presented to the association.

"This cannot be done by making it a place exclusively for social enjoyment, not solely for the development of physical strength, desirable as this may be, but by making it a center of elvish righteousness where the young men of our city, without distinction of race or creed, shall be fitted and trained to fill the places of men now upon the stage of action.

"To this end, we invite the co-operation of every one who is seeking the best interests of our city, every one who realizes that the boys and young men of today will in the not distant future, be the men who will manage and direct the affairs of our city along its varied lines, and decide the questions that arise regarding its policy and management.

"When the rulers of our cities and states are men who have been trained in the ways of civil righteousness, we need have the assurance of Holy Writ that 'Blessed is that nation whose God is the Lord.'"

Mayor O'Donnell's Address

Mayor James E. O'Donnell was next introduced and he said a few good words in behalf of the association and its building. His address was as follows:

"It affords me great pleasure, as mayor of our city, to extend to the members of the Y. M. C. A., upon the completion of their new home, the hearty congratulations of one of the most cosmopolitan communities in the United States, the city of Lowell.

Henceforth, in enumerating the attractions of this city to the stranger, proudly, we shall include this splendid upon Edward Hearne, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Rhode Island and Massachusetts, who spoke interestingly on the work in progress under his jurisdiction. He said that 47,000 names have been enrolled in the two states, and that indications point to a tremendous increase of membership in the future. He spoke of the Fall River building erected a short time ago, and referring to the good derived from the Y. M. C. A. said that last year in both states over 6000 foreigners studied English at the association rooms, and over 30,000 took the regular course. He concluded by extending the Lowell branch of the association the best wishes of the 126 locals he represents.

At the close of Mr. Hearne's address the orchestra struck up a march and this was done in the nick of time, for making for better conditions and finer citizenship.

"I am particularly pleased to see such a magnificent example of Y. M. C. A. activity in one of the great textile centers of the state.

"I believe that this institution has an unusual opportunity for great public service in connection with the textile field. The textile industry is drawing to our country and state great numbers of foreigners, and these are becoming absorbed into our industries faster than they became identified with the forms and institutions of democratic society.

"One of the most serious problems confronting us consists in helping these immigrants to a better understanding of what our civilization stands for, of teaching them the fun-

at that very moment Governor Eugene N. Foss escorted by Dr. D. E. Tarnell, secretary of the local association, Congressman-elect John Jacob Rogers and Adjutant-General Gardner W. Pearson, entered the hall. His Excellency was greeted with loud and prolonged applause and was given a rising reception. Immediately Mr. Bowen introduced the governor as the next speaker, and the man to formally and officially declare the new building open.

Governor Foss

Governor Foss thanked the assembly for the fine reception given him and then spoke in the following terms: "The city of Lowell is to be congratulated on the completion of this splendid building; and I also take this occasion to congratulate you upon the public spirit and civic loyalty which it represents. I am deeply impressed by the power of service to the community which an institution of this character possesses."

"All over the world the spirit of the Young Men's Christian Association is growing and it is everywhere a source of good."

"It is an uplifting force, broad and liberal, reaching for strong, intelligent manhood; and for citizenship of the highest type. I like its blending of moral teachings, with educational and athletic instruction, and the opportunities it affords for forming social acquaintance and lasting friendships. It is a school of manhood and of citizenship—a modern university."

"Originating in London less than 70 years ago, the fundamental idea of the Young Men's Christian Association was brought to the United States in 1851. Although started substantially at the same time in New York, Montreal and Boston, it was in Boston that the idea took root most firmly, and the wonderful growth of the association has been in effect a continuous broadening and branching from Massachusetts as a center. I think we have cause for honest pride in the leadership of Massachusetts, throughout the evolution of this damental principles of a republic like ours, and thus helping them to avoid the professional agitator.

"It ought to be within the power of the commonwealth to see to it that the conditions of employment throughout the commonwealth are just and equitable, sufficient for a decent living, and promoters of the Y. M. C. A. in this city. There will be lady attendants on hand to receive the guests."

History of the Y. M. C. A.

At the call of A. B. Woodworth and the late Dr. George C. Osgood, a meeting of men was held in the reception room of Huntington hall, Feb. 4, 1857, to consider the question of a Young Men's Christian Association. Twelve churches were represented by 44 members. The proposition had met with favor and committees had been appointed to draft constitution and by-laws. These were accepted at a meeting in January, and the organization was completed by an election of officers, Feb. 4, 1857. Of the men present at the first meeting, or enrolled in the long list of officers, directors or committees chosen at the last meeting, only six, so far as known, are still living and are residents of Lowell. These are A. B. Woodworth, Earl A. Thiesell, Andrew Liddell, Rev. S. A. Abbott, Nathan P. Lamson, Theo. P. Gardner, Dr. William C. Ward, Benjamin Holt, William C. Stevenson, Walter H. McDaniels, Charles H. Robbins, Frederick Bailey, Findlay Stevenson and Dr. A. W. Burnham.

I. W. Beard was the first president and James G. Buttrick the first treasurer. An association which had been formed in connection with the First Congregational church in 1855, but which had suspended meetings during the Civil war, disbanded as soon as the general association was organized, and gave to the new organization all its many books, papers and other property. The association secured and fitted up rooms in Barristers hall and dedicated them April 4, 1857. Dr. W. C. Osgood was chosen librarian. Later in the year, George C. Osgood was elected to succeed him.

The first year's expenses were $1767.44, of which about $1000 were for current expenses and the balance for fitting up rooms. On Feb. 17, 1858, the association was duly incorporated. Its reading room was maintained and restructure, not particularly for its own intrinsic beauty, but for what it represents—The Young Men's Christian Association—a progressive and practical power for good in the moral, mental and physical development of the youth and manhood of our beloved home city. Someone once remarked: "Show me a city that supports a flourishing Y. M. C. A., and I will show you a city of good morals." The city of Lowell is the happy possessor of both, and the gentleman was right in his statement. That the city of Lowell appreciates this association was impressively demonstrated as the hands of the clock actually flew round the dial, marking the general and generous response to the call for a building fund. Now that the building is completed, those who came to the front to start the work need have no fear as to its maintenance or future success, for wherever one goes among men in this city, mention of the Y. M. C. A. is invariably followed by a most enthusiastic description of its manifold attractions and advantages, which surely means a great increase adequate to the maintenance of health and happiness. "But it remains as the duty of the schools, the churches, and such institutions as this, to absorb our foreign population into the great body of the commonwealth itself, to make them citizens, and to teach them and bring them into sympathy with the ideals men. The religious meetings were finally changed to meetings for men in the year 1855. A little later a small gymnasium was fitted up in Barristers hall. Later, after a year's hard work, the association bought, fitted up and dedicated, on Dec. 17, 1859, the recently vacated building in Hurd street. Since then its work has been one by young men for young men and through it a very wide influence for good has been exerted throughout the city.

EXPLOSION IN TUNNEL

Two Killed and Others Seriously Injured

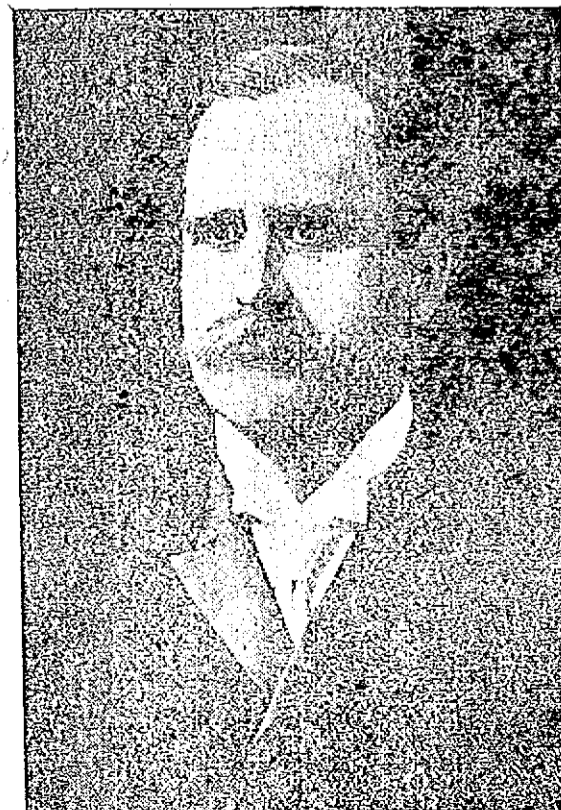

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Two workmen were killed, three are missing and five others were seriously injured early today by an explosion in a tunnel 50 feet under ground at East 72d street and Cottage Grove avenue. It was the second explosion in the tunnel in six hours, three men having been seriously burned in an explosion late last night. Both blasts are believed to have been caused by fumes which gathered following the discharge of dynamite used in blasting rock.

The tunnel is being constructed to connect the south park pumping station at East 55th street with the city water tunnel at East 72d street.

New Pension Law

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Operation of the new pension law which became effective Jan. 1, and which provides that pension checks must be delivered to the pensioner in person has resulted in a return to the Chicago pension office of checks totalling $200,000.

Out of 630,000 checks mailed for the first quarter of 1912 more than $800 have been returned because postal authorities have been unable to find the veterans to whom they were made out and make the delivery in person. The checks vary in amount from $12 to $70 and postmasters are not permitted to forward them.

MISS CURTIS AND WATSON ELECTED

Former Defeated Harris for the School Board—Watson Elected Over Hewitt

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—The election of James A. Watson, "Jerry," to the city council was the big surprise of the municipal election yesterday.

Mr. Watson ran third, defeating Lewis J. Hewitt, the candidate of the Citizens' Municipal league by 843 votes.

Councillors John J. Attridge and Walter L. Collins were re-elected. Mr. Attridge led the ticket with 23,974 votes. Mr. Collins was second with 22,629 votes. Mr. Watson third with 21,629 votes, and Mr. Hewitt ran last with 22,442 votes.

Miss Frances G. Curtis, the Public School association candidate for school committee defeated Isaac Harris, the candidate backed by Mayor Fitzgerald and the democratic city committee by a majority of 3008 votes. Miss Curtis received 27,123 votes as against 25,115 received by Mr. Harris.

License by 15,243

License was carried by a majority of 15,243 votes.

The only ward in the city which went against license was Ward 26, or Hyde Park. The vote in Hyde Park against license was 544, as against 515 in favor.

The city went on record for the acceptance of the eight-hour bill for public employees by a vote of 35,561 to 7050.

The interest in the election was very slight. About 50,000, or less than 50 per cent, of the registered vote of the city was cast. The total vote was about 20,000 less than last year.

The defeat of Mr. Harris for the school committee and the election of Mr. Watson to the city council are not of much significance politically.

Miss Curtis carried 12 of the 26 wards of the city over Mr. Harris—Wards 1, 7, 10, 11, 12, 16, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25 and 26. The democratic machine held its strength in the downtown wards, but the vote was fairly even in South Boston and in the outlying wards.

In the council fight "Jerry" Watson carried 15 out of the 26 wards. The wards in which Mr. Hewitt ran ahead of him were 9, 10, 11, 12, 20, 21, 23, 24, 25 and 26.

Loans for Watson

Mr. Watson was an independent candidate and his victory cannot be attributed to the democratic city machine. He made a very active personal campaign in every ward in the city. At the last moment the democratic organization apparently went on the line for him. In ward 8 Representative Looney declared for Mr. Watson and the total of votes in this district showed Attridge 1369, Hewitt 844, Collins 1060 and Watson 1270.

Mr. Watson received big majorities in the democratic wards.

Wanted Gaiety in Council

To a large extent Mr. Watson's victory was due to the feeling that it would be a good thing to add a little gaiety to the proceedings of the city council by electing a member who was opposed to the reform forces. The Citizens' Municipal league and the Good Government association had endorsed the candidates of Attridge, Collins and Hewitt.

The vote showed that in many of the democratic wards there was considerable "chaffing" for Mr. Watson. The leaders of the Citizens' Municipal league movement stated last night that the election of Mr. Watson was due to the small vote to a large extent.

THE TITANIC'S SUFFERERS

File Suits Amounting to $10,000,000

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Fifty lawyers, who hope to obtain for their clients more than $10,000,000 damages for loss of life and property on the steamer Titanic, were arrayed against attorneys for the White Star line in the United States district court yesterday, the expiration of the time limit set by the court for filing suits. The limit was extended to Feb. 11.

Contends $100,000 Limit

The White Star line contends that its entire liability is limited under the United States statutes to less than $100,000—the value of recovered wreckage and passage money. American claimants allege that the line cannot claim this limitation because it was itself responsible for the loss of life by reason of personal negligence.

If their assertion in this respect is sustained, the claimants will recover full damages. But even if this claim is not upheld, the contention of A. L. Brougham, representing 200 claimants, in that the White Star line's liability can only be limited by the provisions of the British law, which would compel the company to pay total damages of about $3,000,000.

The law requires that action of damages for loss of life must be begun within a year of the date of the sinking of the ship, and lawyers opposing the White Star line charged that the company was endeavoring to mislead claimants so that their right to sue would be lost.

Mr. Brougham has instituted an appeal in the court of appeals, where he hopes to determine fully the rights of the death claimants to bring suit for full damages. Because of this appeal, the lower court granted yesterday's postponement.

HELD THEIR ANNUAL MEETING

Girls' Club of Boot Mills Entertains the Mill Officials

A great deal has been said and written about the Girls' club of the Boot Mills and all that has been said in favor of that unique organization is true and praise will always be due the club. The club holds its annual meeting and supper last night in the recreation rooms at the mill and the members and their friends had a jolly good time. The Girls' club has done a great deal not only for the mill girls but it has also brought about a friendship and friendliness between the employer and employee that cannot fail of good on both sides. Mill officials and their wives were present at the meeting and they were very much interested in the doing of the club. The Boot Mills has the distinction of being the only mill in the country having a Girls' club meeting in a mill room set apart for recreation purposes. The club now has about 300 members.

The president of the club, Miss Minnie O'Connell, presided at the exercises following a very fine supper that was nicely served. There were piano music by Miss Anna Bradley and Mr. Joseph Higginbottom, and songs by Miss Carroll, Miss Nellie Lynch and Miss Witham.

At the opening of the program, the president called upon Mr. E. L. Kirby, who spoke a few words in commendation of the club and its objects. In her own address of welcome, Miss O'Connell said that the object of the club is to try to make every woman and girl in the mill as happy as possible. During the noon hour, there is rest and recreation for them. To be entirely successful, she said, the hearty cooperation of all the girls is necessary; and that, with the good advice of Mrs. Gilman, has made the club what it is. She thanked the mill managers for their kindness shown on so many occasions. In closing, she referred to the loss sustained by the strike in the death of Miss Della Conway, who was one of its most efficient members.

The report of the treasurer, Miss Mary Caveney was very encouraging. The receipts of the club during the year 1912 were $314.21, and the balance on hand, January 1, 1913, was $267.26.

The report of the secretary, Miss Mary Caveney, showed a membership of over 300.

Miss Anna Bradley told of the work of the relief committee. During the strike of 1912, help was given to every employee of the Boot Mills who suffered as a result of the strike, so far as suffering was known; and after the strike was over, according to the report, the treasury was reimbursed by those having the welfare of the employees at heart.

Camp Boot, Willow Dale

The pleasures and advantages of Camp Boot, the summer resting place of the club at Willow Dale, was the subject assigned to Miss Elizabeth O'Connell. During the summer of 1912, a larger number than ever before enjoyed the hospitality of the camp. On the opening day, 243 persons, representing all departments of the mill, were entertained. Among the useful features added during the year was a "first aid" cabinet, and among the greatest benefits, was the outdoor sleeping. "Our chaperon," said Miss O'Connell, "had only one rule, and that was that every girl should attend church on Sunday."

Humorous Address

Mrs. R. W. McAllister was called upon, and after reciting a chapter of amusing mistakes, that furnished material for hearty laughs, she made a plea for broader sympathy, and for extending a helping hand to the newcomers, the foreigners in the city. In closing, she quoted the words of Miss Jesse Woodrow Wilson—"Any one living in a community, and not working for the welfare of that community, misses one of the best things in life."

Treasurer Platters

Frederick A. Platter, the treasurer of the Boot Mills, said that it was a pleasure, though not exactly a surprise to him, to note the evidences of talent in the Working Girls' club of the Boot Mills. "When we know that we are making some of the best people in the market, we must realize that we have talent here. The principal wish I have for all of you, is that you always feel that the Boot Mills is a good place to work."

Agent E. W. Thomas commended the work of the club, and said that no such organization as this exists in any place in the country, except the Boot Mills—a club of girls meeting in a recreation room separated by only a partition wall, from the weaving room.

Words of congratulations and good cheer were spoken in turn by Mr. Fred Lacy, general superintendent, and by Messrs. Hunter, Fish, Nelson, Worth, Nyberg, Holgate, Abbott, Ferguson, McAllister and Cunningham.

Mrs. Jennie L. Gilman—referred to by the president as the "best friend" of the girls' club, was called upon, and said she had been wondering if a month's club at the Boot Mills would not be a good thing. "Any time that the men are ready," she said, "the girls' club stands ready to help them, if they need us. If they do not need us, we will run against them, and we will see which will be the better club, on January 1st, 1914."

The meeting closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

THE PERCENTAGE BASIS

May be Used in Ranking Base Runners

Base runners, in the not far distant future, may be ranked on a percentage basis, just as the work of the batsmen, fielders and pitchers is now tabulated. It has been suggested that a record be kept of the number of times a man is caught trying to steal and the total of unsuccessful attempts be added to his stolen bases and then divided into them. The result would, it is thought, give a correct line on a man's base-running ability.

Clyde Bill of the Senators was boss of the American League's "Battleship" gade last year, purloining 85 bases. The speedy Washington star, who was well up in the running for the Chalmers American league trophy had an average of 51 steals per game, according to the proposed way of reckoning, but that record hardly does him justice.

J. Clyde actually was a base runner of the 739 class, since he was stopped by the backstops on only 31 occasions when he started to steal. The Cleveland catchers, strange to say, flagged Milan the greatest number of times, nailing him in seven attempts to pilfer. A reasonable explanation for their success in throwing him out so frequently is that he was not a bit backward about testing their wings.

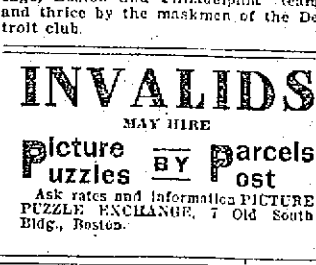

Milan was thrown out five times by the New York backstops, four times by the wind paddlers of the St. Louis, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia teams and thrice by the maskmen of the Detroit club.

THROWN BETWEEN RAILS

Firemen Fell When the Drawbar Broke

FOOT WAS CAUGHT BY THE TENDER TRUCKS

He Directed Rescue Work and Told Men Not to Alarm His Sick Wife—He Was Taken to the Hospital

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—William J. Ackerman, 22, a Boston & Albany fireman, last night coolly directed the work of his release from beneath the trucks of the tender of his engine, by which his right foot was caught, after he had been thrown between the rails when the drawbar between the engine and tender broke.

During all the time that his companions were working to effect his rescue Ackerman's first thoughts were for his wife, who is ill at their home, 8 Electric avenue, Brighton.

He cautioned his fellow workers not to alarm her more than necessary when they informed her of the accident that had befallen him.

Thrown Between Rails

Ackerman was firing a shifting engine with a train of 31 empty cars bound from Cambridge to Brighton, when the drawbar between the locomotive and the tender broke at the Massachusetts avenue storage house. He was standing on the iron platform just over the drawbar at the time, and when the engine drove away from the tender was thrown between the rails.

The breaking of the drawbar automatically shut off the air brakes on the tender and the freight cars, so that the train went on only a few feet after he fell beneath it. There was sufficient space between the axles of the engine and the tender so that he passed over him without injuring him. His right foot, however, was extended upon one of the rails after the forward truck passed, and was caught by the rear truck just as it stopped.

Directs Rescue Work

Two brakemen, who had been riding in the cab of the locomotive, ran back as soon as the engine succeeded in stopping it, and found Ackerman lying beneath the tender, with his right foot jammed beneath one wheel of the rear truck. He had retained his presence of mind when the coupling broke and had thrown himself in such a way that only his foot was caught by the wheels.

When the brakeman reached him, Ackerman told them to bring the engine back so that it could push the tender a few feet and thus release his foot. Engineer Walter B. Smith reversed the locomotive and ran it slowly up to the tender. Just before it touched the tender the air brakes were released on the stalled cars and the locomotive pushed the train back far enough to get Ackerman free.

He was taken from beneath the tender and carried to the Cambridge hospital. Physicians there said last night that although his ankle was badly crushed, they hoped to be able to save his leg.

The Lowell Day Nursery on Kirk street is always a busy place. A Sun reporter happened to stroll in there the other day for a short visit. There were about a dozen youngsters in one of the large play rooms, and they did not seem to be much perturbed by the presence of a stranger. There was nothing formal about that visit; the little folks who were being visited didn't shake hands and say, "How do you do?" and sit up stiffly in their chairs and talk about the cold weather we're having. Nothing of the kind. They serenely kept on playing or quarreling or dozing as the case might be, utterly oblivious of anyone but themselves. Some of the smaller ones ignored the proprieties in a really shocking manner, and continued to repeat with manifestations of fat lips and One wee maiden, who looked like a porcupine, wrapped in the folds of a big blanket, sat up very straight on a settee, and slept soundly in spite of her uncomfortable position. ITCHING INTENSE

Could Not Sleep at Night, Scratched, Causing Sores to Form. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In Two Months Cured All Headed.

R. V. D. No. 2, South Boston, Mass.—"I had eczema on one of my ears and on my face. I could not sleep at night. I scratched and scratched. The itching was so intense that I scratched, causing sores to form. My ear was nothing but a raw sore and I could not get the skin to grow, as it would dry for a few days, would make cracks. I was ashamed to go anywhere my ear looked so badly."

"I used ——— and two kinds of ointment, also ——— Soap and Ointment. I sent for a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and when I had used them two weeks I began to see that they were helping me, so I bought some Cuticura Soap and Ointment and kept on using them. I washed my ear three times a day with Cuticura Soap and then put the Cuticura Ointment on and in two months' time my ear was all healed up." (Signed) Mrs. Alex. Burrier, Nov. 12, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment do so much for poor complexioned, red, rough hands and dry, flaky and itching face, and cost so little that it is almost criminal not to use them. Sold by dealers throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 3-cent book on the skin and scalp. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for the head and scalp.

WOMEN ARE SO EASY

I Couldn't Help Steal
Says Girl

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—After a six weeks' career as an alleged pickpocket, 18-year-old Bessie Gartnerberg is in the hands of the police today, admitting, the detective says, that she left her $5 a week position in a cigarette factory to deliberately turn thief "because it looked so easy." Upon her arraignment in court she was attired in a long fur coat and carried a lynx pillow muff.

"Women are so easy, I just couldn't help it," she said, "and I wanted some fine clothes to attract a husband."

FUNERALS

PRADA—The funeral of Antonio Prada took place yesterday afternoon from the home of his parents, Philip and Margaret (Gorman) Prada, 21 Davis street, and was largely attended. Among the floral tributes were a spray of pink, inscribed "Tony" from his godmother and grandfather; spray of pink from Mrs. family; and a spray from the Daydon family. The burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertaker M. H. McDonough Sons were in charge of the funeral arrangements.

MCGILL—The funeral of Mrs. Margaret McGill took place yesterday afternoon from the home of her husband, James H. McDonough, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. John F. Burns. The bearers were Hugh Finnelly, Robert Shaw, Peter Hagan and Daniel Cossigro. The burial was in the family lot in the Edson cemetery.

Donnelly rendered the Gregorian chant, Mr. Donnelly and Mrs. Nana Gallagher leading the solos. The bearers were Messrs. James McDonald, Daniel Killion of Roxbury, Mass., Thos. Maguire and Jas. McMenamin. Among the floral offerings were the following: spray of calla lilies, Miss Sarah McCort; basket of cut flowers, Misses Jennie and Sadie McCort; basket, Mr. and Mrs. James Jones; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bridges; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kane; spray, Masters Andrew and Thomas Maguire; spray, Miss Lucy Molyneux. The interment was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Fr. Mullin. The funeral was under the direction of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

FALLON—The funeral of John Fallon took place this morning at 9.30 o'clock from the chapel of J. F. O'Donnell & Sons, and was largely attended. The cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's church, where at 9 o'clock a mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Fr. Kerrigan. The choir under the direction of Mr. Michael J. Johnson rendered the Gregorian chant, Miss Alice E. Murphy and Mr. Andrew A. McCarthy sustaining the solos. The bearers were Messrs. Sylvester McEnaney, Paul Flannigan, James Martin and John Sullivan. The floral offerings were: pillow, "Brother," from the brothers of the deceased, and a standing cross on base from the places of Edward F. Brady. The interment was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Fr. Kerrigan. The funeral was under the direction of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

ROWAN—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Rowan took place this morning from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Peter Daly, 203 Broadway, at 8.30, and was largely attended. At St. Patrick's church a high mass of requiem was celebrated at 9 o'clock by Rev. Joseph Curtin. The choir under the direction of Mr. Michael J. Johnson sang the Gregorian mass. Among the beautiful floral tributes were: pillow, "Mother," from family; large wreath of roses, "Grandma," Gill family; standing cross, Mr. and Mrs. Curran and family; sheaf of wheat, Mr. Patrick Mitchell and family; spray of roses, "Goodbye," Baby Cohan; spray of roses, "At Rest," Mrs. Connors; family, The bearers were Martin Cohan, John Healey, James Molloy, Michael J. Garvey, Daniel Martin and Patrick McGrath. Interment was in St. Patrick's cemetery, Rev. Joseph Curtin reading the committal prayers. Undertaker Peter H. Savage had charge of funeral arrangements.

KNAPP—The funeral of the late Mrs. Minnie Knapp took place this morning from her home, 57 Greene street, Boston, Mass. The body was forwarded to this city on the 10.38 train for burial in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery. The committal prayers were read at the grave by Rev. Joseph A. Curtin of St. Patrick's church. There was a profusion of floral offerings. Undertaker C. H. Molloy was in charge.

PALADIOS—The funeral of the late William Paladios, son of George and Anna, took place this morning from the home of his parents, 57 Greene street, by the Rev. Fr. Demery. Services were conducted in the Greek Orthodox church, Holy Trinity, in Jefferson street, by the Rev. Fr. Demery. Interment was in the Edson cemetery, under the direction of C. H. Molloy, undertaker.

DEATHS

PATCH—Commodore Nathaniel J. K. Patch, U. S. N., a member of the Union club, Boston, died in Buffalo, Jan. 12. He was 64 years old. After his graduation from the Lowell, Mass., high school in 1865, he entered the naval academy. After his graduation he toured the world with Gen. Ulysses S. Grant. He served with fidelity and distinction in the navy until 1905, when he was retired.

SHEARMAN—Died Jan. 2 at 6 Mansfield Crescent, Hawick, Scotland, Patrick Shearmen, beloved husband of Elizabeth Murphy.

WELCH—Mrs. Eva Welch, aged 32, died this morning at the Lowell hospital. She is survived by her husband, Thomas A. Welch and one brother, Louis Girard. The remains were removed to the undertakers' rooms of C. H. Molloy in Market street, and later to the home of the deceased, 110 Dunster street.

O'BRIEN—The many friends of Mrs. Bridget O'Brien, aged 63 years, will be pained to learn of her death which occurred this morning at her late home.

79 Bowden street, after a short illness. The deceased was an attendant of the Sacred Heart church for many years. She leaves to mourn her loss a husband, John; three brothers, Peter and John McHugh of the city and Patrick McHugh of Australia.

A "CULINARY CRUISER"

For Navy Needed, Says
Dr. Stokes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Need for a "culinary cruiser" for shore work in the navy is to be impressed on congress by Dr. Charles Stokes, surgeon general of the service who wants the legislators to make appropriation for a woman dietitian. The new adjunct to the navy will be given charge of the female nurses in the various naval hospitals insofar as their duties as cooks are concerned and would have more or less of a roving commission. General Stokes is convinced that she would save her salary and expenses many times over in showing the nurses the proper methods of preparing hospital menus, instructing them how to purchase supplies and pointing out means to avoid waste. He would have the new official divide her time between the hospital and those in Annapolis, Philadelphia, New York and Boston.

MATRIMONIAL

Miss Mary Muir of 19 Fifth street was united in marriage to Mr. James Dinwiddie of 1215 Division street, Indianapolis, Ind., by Rev. W. S. Skinner of the Presbyterian church in Indianapolis. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Dinwiddie left on a wedding trip to Terre Haute, where a reception was tendered the happy couple. They were presented a handsome silver service from the many friends of the bridegroom in that city. Mr. and Mrs. Dinwiddie will make their home at Indianapolis, Ind.

LANOUREUX—HEBERT

A pretty marriage was solemnized this morning at St. Louis church, when Mr. Joseph Urbain Lamooureux and Miss Josephine Hebert two popular young people of West Centralville, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at a nuptial mass celebrated at 7 o'clock by a cousin of the bride, Rev. Herve Racette, O. M. I., of Tewksbury. The couple were attended by Messrs. Francois Hebert and J. B. Landry. During the mass fine music was rendered by the regular church choir, of which the bride is a member. At the close of the ceremony the bride's party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, 35 Essex street, where a dainty dinner was served, followed by a reception.

CHELMSFORD

The officers were elected at the last business meeting of the North Chelmsford Boy Scouts. They are as follows: President, Clifton Lakin; vice president, Roy Lakin; secretary, Alfred Hodge; treasurer, Raymond Ballinger; assistant treasurer, Harry Trubey; Alfred Freese and Edgar Dixon. The meeting was at their headquarters and was largely attended. The first publication of the paper printed on their new press was issued last week. The paper is called "The Tomhawk."

Dr. Amasa Howard of the Long road is the proud possessor of a valuable bull dog, his other dog being killed in an accident some time ago. The dog he now has was the late Dr. Porter's of Lowell, one of Dr. Howard's many friends.

The basket ball season will be reopened this evening with Chelmsford First against the Co. K five of Lowell, and Chelmsford Second will play the Lowell Textile Chemists. The games promise to be interesting as they will play out of town parties altogether.

At the next meeting of the Chelmsford Grange the year's program will be completed by the new lecturer, Miss Eliza Spaulding. Miss Spaulding is very prominent in all lodges, being besides lecturer in the Grange, noble grand in the Highland Rehearsals.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rose of Sussex, N. H. have returned home after a short stay with Mr. Rose's mother, Mrs. George Rose on Littleton street.

Smith's home of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Smith has been brightened by the arrival of a baby boy at West Chelmsford.

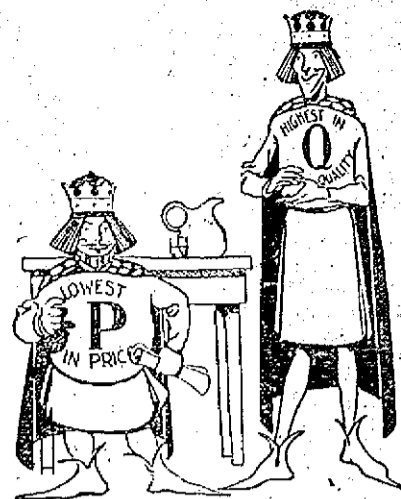

Mrs. John J. Dunn of the West village is entertaining Miss Margaret O'Brien, her niece, from Westford.

40,000 MORE STRIKERS

Joined the Ranks of N.Y.

Garmentworkers

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Fifty thousand flaming red posters distributed in some 600 girls' dress and shirt waist factories today turned nearly 40,000 more workers into the ranks of the strikers in the garment-making trades.

now numbering nearly 200,000. The posters were the official call for a strike among the dress and waist makers, who approved such action by an overwhelming vote. All of these employees are girls, some of them under 14 years old, and their organizations have appointed committees to guard the idle workers against the agents of the white slave trade.

The first demand of the dress and waist makers is "no locked doors." They declare that the lesson taught by the Asch building fire in which 147 girls lost their lives has not been heeded and that they were forced to work in unsafe and unsanitary shops.

25 CENT "DANDERINE" FOR FALLING HAIR AND DANDRUFF—GROWS HAIR

DON'T PAY 50 CENTS FOR WORTHLESS HAIR TONICS—USE OLD, RELIABLE, HARMLESS "DANDERINE"—GET RESULTS.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a foolishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and dis—then the hair falls out fast.

A Little Danderine tonight—now—anytime—will surely save your hair. Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowledge's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS ANNUAL BALL IS ORDERED TO MEXICO

Brilliant Affair Was Held

in Associate Hall

Last Night

One of the most pleasing social events that Lowell has witnessed in some time graced Associate hall last evening when the members and friends of the Butler Ames Company, No. 16 gathered to participate in the seventh annual concert and ball of the organization.

The concert musical program prepared for the occasion contained many excellent numbers which were beautifully rendered by the well known Hubbard's orchestra. This concert was the opening feature of the evening's entertainment and started promptly at 8 o'clock. It was followed by a very well executed exhibition drill by the rank staff of Samuel H. Hines lodge No. 56, held under the direction of Drill Master Alvin E. Joy. The staff contained the following members: Ezra E. Mansur, C. H. Jordan, J. Farley, W. H. Gilman, Samuel Scott, W. H. Harvey, J. Welton, H. Bowen, W. Lingell, B. Beal, Joseph Kerr, R. Fullerton, B. Jordan, W. Blakely.

Dr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Lamson were the leaders of the grand march which began at 9 o'clock and this formed a beautiful feature of the evening. The men, most of whom were members of the company, attired in full military dress uniforms presented a pretty scene as they marched about the hall accompanied by their partners in evening gowns. The music of the grand march ended in waltz time and formed the opening number of the concert.

der of twenty dances and several extra. The wonderful adornment of the hall for the occasion was a source of delight to all present. A large seal of the company was placed upon an attractive background on the stage and draperies of various colors were hung about the gallery and windows. At the front of the stage ferns, palms and other potted plants were arranged so as to render the musicians almost completely hidden from the view of the dancers.

Marked success and pleasure attended the seventh annual ball of the Butler Ames Company last night. The officers in charge were as follows: General manager, Capt. Edwin F. Lamson; assistant general manager, Lieut. W. C. Goodwin; floor director, Lieut. Joseph F. Roharge; assistant, Sergt. Eugene L. Brierley; chief aid, Lieut. Col. F. S. Russell; aids, Sergt. L. O. Mason, Sergt. O. M. Haines, Maurice Perlman, W. J. Bennett, Sergt. Joseph Dunn, C. H. Holmington, Bennett Silverblatt, George W. Lees.

Reception committee: Major Harry C. Bowen, chairman; Capt. Wotton, Lieut. C. H. Peters, Lieut. C. G. Baker, Sergt. A. P. Fecteau, William Henry, Alvin E. Joy, Frank W. Davis, Charles N. Clark, W. S. Lussier, Amos Best, Adelbert Jeffreys.

WHIST, SOCIAL AND DANCE

To Be Held on Thursday Evening, Jan. 20 Under the Auspices of St. Margaret's Parish

The ladies and gentlemen of St. Margaret's parish held a largely attended meeting last evening to discuss plans and make final arrangements for the whist party, social and dance which is to take place in Highland hall on the evening of Thursday, Jan. 20. The splendid attendance at this gathering and the interest which all manifested augurs well for the success of the party.

Mr. William P. Hennessey was elected general manager of the affair, and Miss Margaret Bagshaw was chosen as his assistant. The floor marshal will be Mr. James Knowles with Miss Julia Driscoll as his assistant. Mrs. William M. Burns is chairman of the management committee, and the whist is in charge of Mrs. Minnie Laffan.

Rev. Henry C. Riordan was present at the meeting last night and assisted materially in arranging many of the details. Suitable prizes will be awarded the winners of the whist competition on this occasion.

Elks Met

Lowell lodge of Elks initiated eleven new members at its meeting last evening, one of them being Mayor O'Donnell, who between attendance on the Y. M. C. A. reception and the Knights of Pythias ball found time to ride the goat. At the business meeting all plans for tonight's annual ball in Associate hall were reported completed and the affair promises to be the biggest event in the annals of the organization.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Lowell Opera House

Raymond Hitchcock came to this city yesterday to be greeted last night by an audience which taxed the Opera House to its full capacity. He appeared in the musical comedy "Red Widow," which has enjoyed remarkable success, wherever it has been presented.

The piece, unlike many of its kind, is held together by a sustaining plot which never once becomes totally lost in the maze of music and jest. It deals with the adventures of one Cicero Hannibal Butts, an American corset manufacturer on his trip to Russia. He allows a woman to accompany him, getting into the country on his passport, and she later declares that she is a nihilist and that her mission is to kill the czar. The cast contains many amusing characters and the whole production is a great laugh producer.

Raymond Hitchcock, of course, stands forth prominently far above the others in the company and it is no other than himself who constitutes more than two-thirds of the merit of "The Red Widow." Mr. Hitchcock has a manner of acting that is all his own; he does not seem to appear upon the stage mechanically when his cue is spoken. On the contrary he just seems to wander out and elicit screams of laughter from the audiences whenever it pleases him. Mr. Hitchcock's comedy does not lie in the words, it is written for him by the authors of the play, but rather in his own personality. His expression, his every act is sure to be interpreted by all who see him and it is for this reason that he has always been such a great favorite with theatre goers. A great deal of his comedy is original and extemporaneous which fact adds greatly to its attractiveness. Many times the star has made the merry members of his company laugh at his witlessness so that they are forced to pause in their parts to regain their composure.

Flora Zabelle in the title role was exceptionally good and her duet with Mr. Theodore Martin who takes the part of Captain Romanoff of the Russian army and lover of the Red Widow is a feature of the performance. Mr. Martin is a remarkably good tenor voice and his rendering of the now well known "I Love You Dear" was enthusiastically applauded.

As Cicero Butts some of the corset manufacturer, George White won a great deal of applause last night and his work is truly worthy of commendation. Minerva Cloverdale in the

Feel Bully? Take Cascarets Tonight

GENTLY CLEANSE YOUR LIVER AND SLUGGISH BOWELS WHILE YOU SLEEP

Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver, delayed fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. This is the poison which causes the delicate brain tissue to cause congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Salts, cathartic pills, oil and purgative waters force a passage way for a day or two—but they don't take the poisons out and have no effect upon the liver or stomach.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels clean and regular for months.

vines him to fight fire with fire. A girl with a Greek soul, possessed of great beauty, who works in his factory, has just been discharged. Pretending that he has been won over to the cause and wishes to win converts, he invites her to visit his home because he needs her. The wife immediately becomes disenchanted and jealous but, being a new woman, she has no cause for complaint. The situations that ensue are both amusing and vital.

THE PAUL J. RAINES' PICTURES

The successful recognition of any theatrical or amusement enterprise in New York City is judged largely by the time it is permitted to occupy the principal theatres of the metropolis. This being true, the reproduction of Paul J. Raines' famous East African hunt, which will be seen at the Opera House for one week, commencing Jan. 27th, now holds the record for an uninterrupted run of over one year and still playing at the Bijou theatre.

Keith's Theatre

Everybody is going to see Martinelli & Sylvester, the boys with the chairs, at the Keith theatre this week. They are without any exception the cleverest performers in their lines who have ever struck town, and for fully 15 minutes one will scream with pure delight at them. Then there are the Rosales, a man and a woman, who offer a refined tight and slack wire act. Leigh DeLacy in "The Boss" has a little offering which will touch the heartstrings. Her support is all that could be desired. Arthur Rigby, the minstrel man, is just as funny as he ever was. Other things on the bill are: Johnson & Wentworth, singers; Holmes & Holliston, in a sketch; Delisle, the juggler, and Mitchell & Lightner, comedians. Good seats for all performances. The box office telephone number is 25.

The Playhouse
A feature that will appeal strongly to the patrons of the Playhouse this week, and more especially to the women folk, is the wonderfully handsome gown worn by the female members of the cast. The creations in which Miss Jackson and Miss Young appear are being talked of on all sides. The work of the entire company in "The Ironmaster," a play that is equal of the best seen at this theatre this season, is exceptionally good. Mr. Smythe, Miss Jackson and Miss Young are especially entertaining while Mr. Dillon, Mr. Bosworth and Mr. Sidney are also seen to advantage. Mr. Weston has again shown the master hand in staging the piece. Get your tickets either at the theatre or at the sub ticket office at Dow's, telephone 610.

Merrimack Square Theatre

It needs but a glance at the week's bill being presented at the Merrimack Square theatre to see that it is a grand one. It has variety as well as quality and will please the most fastidious. Heading the list is the sketch, "The Littlest Girl." This is presented by Messrs. Carleton & Horne and is one of the best of the kind ever given here. Then Knight Bros. & Sawyer, two comedians and a pretty girl have a refreshing comedy which is topped off with Hamlin & Barrow, two clever comedians. The La Dells, a pair of gymnasts, go through a series of droll stunts and the whole is pleasantly intermingled with some good pictures.

A.F. FRENCH DWELLING DAMAGED

By Stubborn Fire Started There This Morning—Another Fire in Lavery's Bakery

The handsome residence of Albert F. French, paper box manufacturer, at 213 Parkview avenue, Oakland, was visited by fire about seven o'clock this morning and but for the early discovery of the blaze and prompt response of the fire department the house would probably have been gutted. The firemen did excellent work and confined the blaze to the rear of the house, but despite their efforts it is estimated that the loss by fire and smoke will amount to about $2500.

A large pipe organ, considered one of the finest house organs in this section of New England, the estimated cost of which is about $10,000, escaped damage.

Chief Hosmer is of the opinion that the fire was caused by defective wiring and Electrician Fernald of the fire department and Inspector Mahan of the police department will make an investigation.

The fire started around the ceiling of the kitchen and spread to the coal pipe which is over an enclosed piazza. The coal pipe was filled with sawdust which caught fire and the blaze worked its way through the partitions along under the stairway and into the attic. Shortly after seven o'clock one of the occupants of the house detected a strong odor of smoke but was unable to locate the fire. A telephone call was sent to the central fire station and Engine company No. 4 was sent to the scene but before they reached the house an alarm from box 241 was sounded. When the firemen arrived on the scene there was a lively blaze in progress but instead of laying hoses of hose they fought the fire with three chemical lines which did effective work.

Fred C. Church carried the insurance on the contents of the residence.

Another Fire at Lavery's

An alarm from box 32 at 11:29 o'clock last night summoned a portion of the fire department to a lively blaze in the bakery of Anthony Lavery & Sons at the corner of Broadway and Fletcher street, which was recently damaged by fire.

The fire started in the room where doughnuts are cooked and had made considerable headway before being discovered.

After the recent fire galvanized iron was placed on the sheathing as a protection from fire but last night the heat from the kettle penetrated the iron and set fire to the sheathing. The flames made their way to the roof but their progress was checked before they broke through the roof.

Fred C. Church carried the insurance on the property.

Mother-in-law Can Have No Say

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—A mother-in-law "can have no say whatever regarding the management and control of the home" which she enjoys with her daughter-in-law and her son, who provide it.

So held Supreme Court Justice Crane in Brooklyn yesterday in denying Gardner L. Field a separation from Adelaide Field, who had quit his home after alleged interference by her mother-in-law. Mrs. Field had offered to return if her mother-in-law was banished, but Field had not consented to this arrangement.

Gifts for Miss Gould

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—It was learned today that two unusual gifts are on the way from St. Louis for the working of Helen Miller Gould and Finley J. Sheppard at Fairview, next week. The railroad Young Men's Christian Association building at St. Louis has been done in a gold and bronze miniature and made into a clock. The other gift is a gold and bronze fowl case, a miniature reproduction of the Gould private car "Atlantic." It is the gift of 30 railroad Y. M. C. A. branches gathered over the Gould lines in the southwest.

Local Bowlers Are in Great Form

The Testers won three points from the Ajax team in a game in the Heinzelmann league series last night. Brown of the Testers put up a good game, having a total of 253.

The game between the First Swedish M. E. and St. Paul's teams of the Baraca league last night resulted in a victory for St. Paul's which won three of the four points. S. Britt was the only player to go over the 300 mark.

The Parcel Post team got a severe thrashing from the Ajax team last night, the latter winning all four points.

In the Saco-Lowell league series the Shippers and Office teams divided honors, each team winning two points.

Two teams, each composed of seven members of the C. Y. M. L., met on the alleys last night in a close and interesting contest, the team captained by Haldane defeating that captained by Larrigan. The scores:

For Man Who Cruelly Abused His Wife
Charles Carlson, of North Billerica, was sentenced to five months in the house of correction by Judge Enright in police court this morning for assault and battery on his wife. According to the testimony offered by Mrs. Carlson and her daughter, her husband has beaten her on several occasions and several years ago was sentenced for cruelly abusing her.

Mrs. Carlson testified that last Sunday night her husband followed her into the yard and struck her and when she fell to the ground he kicked her. She said he had beaten her on many occasions and she would be much better off without him. Mrs. Carlson's little daughter also testified that her father had assaulted her mother.

Carlson admitted that he had assaulted his wife but said she had provoked him. Officer Martin Conway of Billerica when questioned said he had received several complaints about Carlson and that about four weeks ago the man said he would not strike his wife again.
--	--	--	--

The court after considering the evidence and learning that Mrs. Carlson could provide for herself, sentenced Carlson to five months in the house of correction.

OUR ANNUAL JANUARY SILK SALE

Will Commence Tomorrow, Thursday, Jan. 16th

Lowell's first complete showing of the new silks for spring 1913 will be found here Tomorrow and in simple fairness we must add that we have been fortunate in securing more big lots of good silks---here and abroad---than were shown even in last year's fine sale. No store here has ever approached the Gilbride store in its silk values---or in the assortments shown in these January sales.

This year we shall beat all previous records. Silk is costing more today than for 10 years. In view of this fact we have marked every piece of Silk in this sale at the lowest prices ever quoted. We guarantee a saving of from 25 to 33 per cent. We offer these new, up-to-date fashionable Silks in hundreds of weaves, colorings and designs. The lots include Foulards, from the best American makers. Imported Foulards, Chiffons, Evening Silks, Charmeuse Silks, Black Silks of every description, Chiffon Taffeta, Mes-salines and many other kinds of remarkable savings.

Other Offenders

Fred Lamarche entered a plea of guilty to a complaint charging him with being drunk, but at the request of the government the case was continued until tomorrow morning.

Bernard McArdle, who was recently sentenced to four months in jail and appealed, withdrew his appeal this morning.

John J. Ducey, who made his 53d appearance in court, was ordered to pay a fine of $6. John Sullivan was also fined $5. There were four first offenders who were fined $2 each.

Convicted of Selling Opium

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—Chin Chung, a laundryman located at 102 Pleasant street, was convicted by a jury in the United States district court yesterday on a charge of selling opium for smoking purposes. Pending sentence he was allowed to go on $1000 bail.

CHURCH SOCIABLES

Various Events Held in the Vestries

Last Night—Men's League of Kirk St. Temple

"The Six Klementianians," a two act farce, will be presented by the "Old Timers" on Thursday evening in the church vestry. It was the same club which was so successful in presenting the little play, "Our Church Fair," last season. This play is very snappy and is bound to be as successful as the latter was. Miss Ruth Dodge will sing between the acts.

First Congregational

"Home-Makers' Day" will be observed by the Mothers' association this afternoon in the vestry at 3 o'clock. Rev. E. H. Newcomb, the pastor, will speak on "The Pastor as a Family Friend." After the speaking there will be a reception for the new officers and tea will be served.

Kirk Street Congregational

Tonight the men of the Kirk Street church will meet to discuss the new Men's league, which they have decided to form. Not long ago over 50 men, in a Sunday morning meeting, decided to form the league or brotherhood, and this meeting is to hear the report of the committee which was appointed at that time. At 8:30 a supper will be served. The idea has attracted much interest among the men of the church, and a large attendance is expected.

Gorham Street Methodist

The Christmas cantata, "Star of the East," was sung by request at the Sunday evening service Jan. 13. Mr. Joseph Wilmut deserves great credit for his work as director. The soloists were: Misses Alice F. Scoble, Lena Howard, Martha Hawthorn and Mrs. Albert Whitworth. Mrs. W. G. Haynes, Messrs. N. W. Matthews, Jr., Bertrand Field, Albert Whitworth and Ephraim Jeffrey.

served by the Mothers' association this afternoon in the vestry at 3 o'clock.

First Presbyterian

The lecture on lepers by W. M. Danner, the secretary of the international and interdenominational organization that cares for them, was attended last night by a large audience, and was of great interest. The lecturer illustrated his speech with lantern slides, and he told the people who had assembled many astonishing things about these people who are isolated from the rest of the world. Mr. Danner has studied conditions in many countries, including Burma, Ceylon, China, India, Japan, Korea and Siam. There are over a million lepers in the world, and in the orient the outcasts are shunned by all. Among the Christians, however, much has been done in the way of systematic work to relieve them. There are already 52 settlements as a result of this work.

To Give Demonstration
by Suffragettes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—In order to demonstrate in spectacular manner the advancement of women, the managers of the suffragist parade here March 9 have invited Miss Bernice Miller, a woman aviator, to swoop down in Pennsylvania avenue in her aeroplane on that day with a message for "Miss Columbia," the central figure in the tableaux which will be set on the steps of the treasury department. An answer to the invitation is expected today.

ARE OUT OF HARMONY

Doctor White Talks on Insanity

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—By declaring that a vast number of the so-called insane were not victims of diseased minds, but that they were only "out of harmony" with the accepted standards of society, Dr. William A. White, superintendent of the government hospital for the insane, started a lively discussion among noted alienists today. Dr. White told the audience of Jewish women last night that insanity was on the increase but that it could not be regarded as a disease.

"Insanity does not mean disease," he said. "It is a legal and social term for stigmatizing in the community persons who act and do certain things in a manner which alarms the remainder of society."

In view of the growth of insanity Dr. White advocated a general dispensary system in connection with the government hospital to reach those who show signs of approaching mental disorders.

Metropolitan Golf Championship
NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The Metropolitan golf championship, which usually attracts several of the high ranking golf players of the country, has been tentatively set for May 17 to 21 inclusive among noted alienists today. Dr. White told the audience of Jewish women last night that insanity was on the increase but that it could not be regarded as a disease.

FOR ARCHBALD LETTERS

Witness Testified His Share Was $15,000

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—William Winkfield, the former Standard Oil messenger who has told Commissioner Williams, investigating campaign funds, of his participation in the sale of the Archbald letters made material alterations in his testimony when he reappeared today before the committee. Winkfield told the senators he had "stage fright and a bad headache" yesterday, but he later remembered that at one time two letter copy books and three parcels of letters were taken by himself and Stump, another messenger, and for his share he got $15,000, which he believed to be one third of the price paid. He said he understood they were sold to the New York American. Winkfield told of being called into Archbald's office and testified about stealing the letters. The witness said that Mr. Archbald told him Stump could prove he had taken them. Winkfield said he denied he took the letters. "This is the first time I ever acknowledged my part in the matter," said Winkfield. "I never admitted it to Gilchrist Stewart or to Colliers. I never told Mr. Archbald about it." The witness said that Mr. Archbald discharged him because he knew something about the letters being taken. Under cross examination by Senator Pomeroy, the witness said that the letters were in Mr. Archbald's desk and that he and Stump got them by using a key they found. Winkfield testified that he and Stump and a man named Zimmer would take the batch of letters out to sell them. "Stump and I would remain outside while Zimmer went in to get the money," declared Winkfield.

END LIVER TROUBLE
WITHOUT CALOMELUntrustworthy Drug, Thought to Loosen the Teeth, Now Made
Absolutely Unnecessary

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are the mildest but surest laxative known, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. Dr. Edwards has been calomel's uncompromising foe. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-oil-colored tablets, a rare combination of vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil. These pleasant, harmless little tablets do all the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel at all, but to let Olive Tablets take their place.

Most indigestions, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" the clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits.

At 10c and 25c a box. "Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

ENJOYABLE WHIST PARTY

By the Ladies of the Highland Club

One of the most enjoyable whist parties ever held in Lowell was given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Highland club yesterday afternoon. It was held in the ball room of the clubhouse, in which the decorations for the Winter Garden party of a few weeks ago were still displayed. These decorations and the beautiful gowns of the women lent a brilliancy to the affair such as is seldom seen in this city. More than 50 tables were in use during the afternoon, and nearly 200 of the ladies of the Highland and other sections of the city were present. Both straight whist and bridge whist were played, and two-thirds of the tables were for the latter. In bridge the prizes were awarded as follows: First, a mahogany tray, Mrs. J. H. Donnelly; second, one-half dozen cut glass lemonade tumblers, Mrs. Lane; third, fancy dish, Mrs. Charles Shepherd. In straight whist the prizes were as follows: First, brass clock, Mrs. Stackpole; second, silver deposit vase, Mrs. Cyrus Barton. Great interest was shown in the event, which is the first of a series of three to be held at different times during the winter. It was entirely successful, and the committee is to be congratulated on the excellent arrangements. The next meeting is to be held on February 1.

The committee in charge consisted of: Mrs. Fred H. Woodworth, chairman; Mrs. W. H. Woodworth, Mrs. Geo. Hawley, Mrs. A. J. Dion, Mrs. Peter Conant, Mrs. F. W. Farnham, Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Mrs. F. W. Sherman, Mrs. Cyrus Barton, Mrs. Frank Jewett, Mrs. A. G. McCurdy, Mrs. Charles Leathers, Mrs. J. S. Hanson, Mrs. Frank Kenney, Mrs. A. P. Knapp, Mrs. Frank M. Smith. There were many visitors present from Boston, Winchester and other places.

During the afternoon a cake and candy sale was held and the table was presided over by Mrs. W. H. Wilson and several able assistants.

FOURTH TO BECOME A NUN

Dwight Sisters Withdraw
From World

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—Miss Helen Dwight, the fourth daughter of the late Prof. Thomas Dwight of the Harvard Medical school to enter a convent, has just taken her novitiate vows in the Carmelite convent in Florence street, Roxbury.

The Dwight home is at 235 Beacon street, and three of Miss Dwight's sisters, Mary, Katheryn and Florence, have withdrawn from the world into convents. At the present time only one daughter, Margaret, and the son, Joseph, now live with the mother, who was Sarah C. Inagli. A few years ago, Joseph, who was then a student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, astonished his friends by foregoing the luxuries to which he was accustomed and taking residence in the Trappist monastery in Cumberland, N. H. He remained there for more than a year but later returned to be with his mother.

FUNERAL NOTICE

O'HEARN.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Bridget O'Hearn will take place on Friday morning at 9 o'clock from her late home, 72 Dowden street. Solemn high mass of requiem will be sung at the Sacred Heart church at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons in charge.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The special board of inquiry sitting at Ellis Island in the Castro case held another meeting today but adjourned without reaching a decision it was announced today. The case will be taken up again tomorrow.

NEW Y. M. C. A. BUILDING FORMALLY OPENED BY GOV. FOSS WITH FITTING EXERCISES AND LARGE GATHERING

THE NEW BUILDING AS IT APPEARS TODAY

It was Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. last evening and over 1000 men, old and young, gathered to inspect the beautiful building and listen to interesting speeches delivered by prominent gentlemen, including Governor Foss. The feature of the evening was the formal and official opening of the new building by Gov. Eugene N. Foss, who spoke interestingly on the work of the Y. M. C. A. since its inception. There were other addresses by Mayor James E. O'Donnell, President F. A. Bowen, of the association, former Mayor Frederick Fosdick of Fitchburg, Edward Hearn, secretary of the Rhode Island Y. M. C. A., while a varied entertainment program was given by the association orchestra and Prof. Albert D. Round House.

The building is equipped with an assembly hall on the second floor, but this was thought inadequate to seat the large gathering and, therefore, seats were placed in the gymnasium room and the exercises were conducted there.

The meeting was opened by President F. A. Bowen, who in a brief address welcomed the guests and outlined the purpose of the Y. M. C. A. He said: "It gives me great pleasure to welcome the men of our city to the formal opening of this building, the gift of the people of Lowell to the Y. M. C. Association, to be used by them for the benefit of the whole city, without distinction as to race or creed. 'The apostle John, in writing to the church, said, 'I write unto you, young men, because ye are strong.' Paul, in writing to the Corinthians says, 'Quit you like men. Be strong.' Not only in John's and Paul's day, but during all

Chosen in Joint Convention of State Legislature at Augusta, Maine, Today

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 15.—Former Congressman Burleigh was elected United States senator by the state legislature in joint convention today. The vote was as follows: Burleigh 51, Gardner 52, Thompson 7. Ninety-one votes were necessary for a choice.

Rep. Stanley of Cumberland, a democrat who paired yesterday with Rep. Wise of Guilford, a republican absentee and did not vote, voted today for the progressive candidate. Otherwise the democratic vote was unimpaired. Representatives Stewart of East Livermore, Sanders of Greene, Matheson of Rangely and Richardson of Canton, who voted yesterday for Mr. Thompson, the progressive candidate, also did so today and they were joined by Reps. Cox, Edgecomb and Wheeler. No further action was taken in the

JESS WILLARD SAYS HE'D LIKE THIS WALLOP ON CHAMPION LUTHER McCARTY'S ANATOMY

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Jess Willard is sore. The famous heavyweight champion, who calls himself a new white heavyweight champion, is not entitled to the name. He also declares that he will be suffering from a case of neuritis. "Why," said Jess recently, "I beat that fellow McCarthy to a frazzle without half trying in a ten round bout in New York a short time ago. And now look! He beats Al Fulton, who never really beat a good man, then places himself on a pedestal and says: 'I'm the real thing in the pugilistic line. Come see me if you have the cash.' Can you beat that for nerve?" Willard says he would like nothing better than a chance to demonstrate that he is a better man with the milks than McCarthy. Willard is the tallest of all heavyweights. He is 6 feet 6 inches in height and weighs 233 pounds. He is clever and possesses a good wallop. His most recent battle was with Soldier Kearns, whom he knocked out in eight rounds.

THE HOME RULE BILL Entered Final Stage in House of Commons

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The Home Rule bill entered on its final stage in the house of commons this afternoon. When this last debate has been concluded, which it must be by tomorrow night, the measure will be passed on to the house of lords, where its rejection is a foregone conclusion.

THIRD TRIAL OF HYDE For Murder of Colonel Swope is on Today

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 15.—After several postponements due to the inability of the prosecution to get its witnesses together and to motions by the defense for delay, the third trial of Dr. Clark Hyde for the murder of Col. Swope got under way today with the drawing of a venire. Mrs. Hyde wife of the physician accused of administering typhoid germs, cyanide and other poisons to Col. Swope was in the court today but did not act in the previous trials because of her husband.

Vote for President of France
PARIS, Jan. 15.—A vote taken this afternoon at a joint caucus of parties making up the majorities in the senate and chamber of deputies to nominate a candidate for the presidency of the republic resulted as follows:
Raymond Poincaré, premier, 180;
Julius Pains, minister of agriculture, 174; Antonin Dubost, president of the senate 107; Paul Deschanel, president of the chamber of deputies 33; Felix Ribot, ex-premier 52. After the result of the vote was announced the taking of another ballot was begun.

Garde Frontenne
The whist and social organized by the members of Garde Frontenne for the benefit of the French American orphanage will be held tomorrow evening in the college hall in Merrimack street. Besides a various entertainment program to be rendered by local talent, the members of the guard will give a fine drill exhibition. All are now in readiness for the event and the affair promises to be a success in every way.

Free Sugar Plan
NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The free sugar plan of the house democrats, regarded by leaders as one of the virtually assured features of the tariff revision program of the coming extra session of congress so far as the house is concerned, attracted attention on today's hearing before the house ways and means committee.

Scalded By Explosion
HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 15.—Four engineers and five dockers of the steamer Caroline of the French line, bound from Havre for Halifax and New York, were seriously scalded by the explosion of a steam pipe at sea. The vessel's commander so reported when the Caroline docked here today.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—W. H. Locke of Pittsburgh announced this afternoon that he had purchased the Philadelphia National league baseball club.

The Late T. Vigeant
The body of Timothee Vigeant, who died in Montreal, Que., yesterday morning, will arrive in this city tomorrow morning and will be removed to the home of a brother, Paul Vigeant, 43 Riverside street, pending the time of funeral.

Jack Johnson Again Nulled
CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Jack Johnson, who was interrupted at Battle Creek, Mich., yesterday while on his way to Toronto despite the terms of a bail bond holding him within the jurisdiction of the United States district court at Chicago, gave a satisfactory explanation to Judge Carpenter today. He was not surrendered on the $20,000 bonds covering his appearance to answer charges of violating the Mann act but was given up on a bond of $5000 covering a charge of smuggling. The $20,000 bond was allowed to stand and the prizefighter was given time to secure a new bond on the smuggling charge.

Rifle Target Practice
WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The artillery marksmen of the Massachusetts National guard won the 12-inch rifle target practice over all state militia organizations during 1912, according to reports just received by the militia division of the war department. Connecticut militiamen took first place with the 10-inch rifle while the Florida and New York National guard organizations respectively led in the eight and six-inch rifle practice.

CAPTAIN AND CREW STICK TO STEAMSHIP ON ROCKS AFTER 883 PASSENGERS HAD BEEN SAFELY MOVED

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 15.—Several hundred of the passengers rescued from the steamship Uranium, which is stranded on the rock promontory a few miles from the entrance to Halifax harbor, have been sent to New York by train. Eight hundred and eighty-three passengers were taken off the stranded steamship by vessels sent from Halifax. Captain Robert Eustace and his crew remained aboard the stranded vessel, with tugs standing by to take them off if a change in the tide should make the position of the vessel more dangerous. The ship is hanging by her bow to the rock on which she had run. The impact had made a great hole in her bow, and the forward compartment was flooded. Captain Eustace, it was reported, was confident that his ship could be saved if the wind did not change. When she struck the tide was about half on and the vessel was level for a time. As the tide went out, however, the stern sank, leaving the bow towering above. Great praise was showered upon the officers and crew of the Uranium for the way in which they handled the difficult situation on board the vessel. The fact that every passenger was taken safely from the stranded ship and landed at Halifax within a few hours after she struck was regarded as a marvel of efficiency on the part of the steamship's crew and the rescuing craft.

HELP WANTED
LIBRARY TRUSTEES

HELP WANTED
Will Ask the Municipal Council For More Money Than Was Allowed Them Last Year

HELP WANTED
At a meeting of the trustees of the public library held yesterday afternoon the trustees were a unit in declaring that the city council should this year increase the amount of the annual appropriation over that of last year. This sum of $14,500 was allowed last year and that was $3500 less than the original estimate. The trustees have been obliged to take money from the John Davis bequest and they allow that such action is not in keeping with the spirit of the bequest. Salaries have been paid out of the bequest, and it has also been used to purchase modern fiction, for which there is a great demand locally. At the meeting the wages of two boys employed at the library were raised from $5 cents to $8 a day, and the other from $1 to $1.25. Books were approved, and bills for the month were also brought before the trustees.
